Long Journey Home From Major Operation

Many a non-worrying able-bodied citizen sails serenely through life thinking he is proof against medical misfortune—until disaster strikes without warning.

The night of Aug. 27, C.M. (Pod) Rogers, Jr., our circulation manager, and your editor stopped at the Sands Motel, Dallas, en route to see the Pittsburgh Pirates play ball against the Astros in Houston's Astrodome—a fabled place I had never seen.

And I haven't seen it to this day.

At 2 o'clock the next morning, Saturday, Aug. 28, I was awakened by a frightful belly pain, finally got dressed and awakened Pod.

Did you ever try to find a doctor on a week-end in a strange city? I owe profound thanks to Pod for solving an almost impossible problem.

We went first to the Doctors Hospital, then to Baylor Hospital, with no luck at either place. Then Pod went to work on officers of the county medical society. He finally got hold of the wife of the medical society's vice-president and she guaranteed to have a specialist at Doctors Hospital.

She produced not one but two: Dr. Philip Morrow and Dr. A.A. Ilyia, who diagnosed my case as a perforated ulcer in either the stomach or colon. They were right on the money. They operated at 5:15 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 28—and took out what Dr. Morrow told me was one of the largest stomach ulcers he had ever seen in a person my size, and it had just perforated.

There were no complications. I was in Doctors Hospital for two weeks, bypassing the stomach the first week with intravenous feeding, beginning a light food diet the second week.

Oct. 10, on a Friday, I was brought back home by a Hempstead County Ambulance Service car to Hempstead County Memorial Hospital to recuperate. Within the last week I have been getting someone to drive me daily on brief visits to my house and The Star.

Only now have I gotten strong enough to venture back to a typewriter, and trust this will be a continuing routine.

I never realized until now the miracles modern surgery and medicine are performing every day. I am still 25 pounds under the weight at which I left Hope Aug. 27, but am gaining it back a little every day under the guidance of Drs. Harris & Harris.

Thanks for the hundreds of cards and messages that reached me at both the Dallas and Hope hospitals. Visitors at Dallas included: D.B. Russell, Mrs. C.M. Rogers and sons Douglas and Bradford; George Guthrie, Jr., Dallas sales agent for our Lufkin paper mill; Haskell Jones, KXAR general manager; and Billy Etter, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Etter of Washington, Ark.

A daily visitor at Dallas was L.B. Tooley, former manager of Radio Station KXAR, now business manager of C.C. Young Memorial Home, a complex serving retired folks. Mr. and Mrs. Tooley make their home in Richardson, on the north side of Dallas.

And my profoundest thanks to a fine organization back home which never missed a beat during my personal emergency: General Manager Paul H. Jones, Advertising Manager Donal Parker, Mechanical Superintendent Billy Dan Jones, Head Cameraman Gene Allen, and the entire staff in the office and in the shop.

In closing, I am reminded of a grim thing called luck. At Dallas I shared a semi-private room with three different men, all being heart patients, one of them in for a checkup on a previous heart transplant. He and one of the others came out under their own steam. The third didn't make it. When I told a nurse that

Accident Rate High in County

The Police Services Division in its monthly statistical review reported today that a record 92 persons died in traffic fatalities during the month of October. According to State Police figures, this is 45 more deaths than were recorded over the same period a year ago.

Captain Milton Mosier, District Commander of the Hope District for the Police Services Division said that 10 persons died during the month of October on Arkansas highways in the Hope District. Counties in the district recording deaths were Clark, LaFayette, Little River 2 each and Hempstead, Miller, Nevada, and Sevier 1 each. Howard and Pike Counties were free of traffic fatalities during the reporting period.

Mosier said troopers in the 9 county area investigated 93 accidents. Hempstead and Miller Counties experienced the highest accident rates during October recording 15 accidents each, followed by Nevada County with 14 accidents, Clark 11, Howard and Sevier 10 each, Pike and Little River 9 each and LaFayette 2 accidents.

The report indicated that failure to yield the right of way was the leading contributing cause in the accidents, followed by excessive speed, driving while under the influence of alcohol and driving on the wrong side of the road. The 92 traffic deaths during October occurred in 68 fatal collisions. This is the largest death rate since November of 1968, when 79 lives were lost. Statewide, troopers investigated 1,087 accidents during the month of October.

Hempstead County FHA Farm Family of Year Judging Is Underway

Judging to determine the Hempstead County winner in the Farmer Home Administration's second annual "Arkansas Farm Family of the Year" began last week, Harold Foster, FHA county supervisor disclosed today.

Competing for the county award are the families of James Staggars, Homer Salisbury, Johnnie W. A. Kramer, and Randy J. Morris.

Winner of the county award will be disclosed November 18, 1971 said Mr. Foster.

County award winners from Hempstead, Lafayette, Miller, Little River, Sevier, and Pike counties will participate in a district contest. District winners will compete in a state contest that will be climaxed at a Little Rock luncheon early next year, Mr. Foster said.

Certificates of recognition will be awarded to winners of the county contests by Farmers Home Administration. The electric cooperatives of Arkansas will provide engraved plaques for the 12 district winners and a $100 cash award for the state FHA "Farm Family of the Year," and will be hosts for the state awards luncheon.

Winner of the Hempstead County FHA "Farm Family of the Year" award in 1970 was the Joel Green family of Ozan. State winner was the Luther Blackburn family of Glencoe, in Fulton County.

Selection of county, district and state winners will be based on outstanding utilization of resources, initiative, ability to overcome adversity in efficient farming operations, and good citizenship.

All competing families must have used FHA farm ownership or operating loans for at least 60 months, and must have a loan at the time of entry or have paid off such a loan in 1971 or the previous year.

Judges for the Hempstead county contest are Donal Parker, Hope Star; Ray Lawrence, Representative First National Bank; Eldredge Formby, Representative Southwest Arkansas Electric Cooperative of Texarkana.

Charges 3 in Connection With Prostitution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pulaski County Grand Jury returned indictments Tuesday against three persons, including a North Little Rock policeman. The indictments stemmed from a three-week investigation led by Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker. Named in the indictments were North Little Rock Police Capt. James W. Gibbons, and two North Little Rock women, Hazel Morgan and Geraldine Inman. All were charged with pandering in connection with alleged prostitution in North Little Rock and perjury.

Gibbons surrendered to the Pulaski County sheriff's office after being notified of warrants against him and deputies arrested the two women at their North Little Rock homes.

Judge's Expense Account Same

There was an error in the Quorum Court report carried in Tuesday's issue of the Star. The County Judge's expenses were listed at $10,500 when actually his expense account is $3,600 annually and this represents no increase over last year.

The $10,500 was the total appropriated to the Health Department and this represents an increase of $1,410 over the previous year.

I had anticipated this she was curious about how I knew. I told her:

"Well, the man had been receiving daily visits from a son—but last night the entire family appeared, carrying suitcases."

Man Dies in Sleep at 121

ATMORE, Ala. (AP) — Will Adams, listed in Social Security records as 121 years old, died in his sleep Monday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. G. L. Thomas.

Adams has not been active for some time. However, at 111 he fell out of a pecan tree while helping to gather pecans.

A Social Security spokesman said he was the second oldest person receiving Social Security payments.

Premier Takes Over Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Premier Thanom Kittikachorn today declared martial law, dissolved parliament and declared himself head of a revolutionary council.

The surprise announcement, made over Radio Thailand, reflected increased dissatisfaction by the predominantly military government with demands made by members of parliament.

Thanom's move was seen as a coup d'etat against Parliament. It was reconstituted in 1969 after 10 years of total military rule.

Included in the new powers Thanom gave himself was that all courts will come under military jurisdiction.

Thanom, 60, has been premier since 1963, when he took power on the death of Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat.

First word of an impending political upheaval came when word spread that a full police and military alert had been ordered throughout the country. Rumors of a coup d'etat spread quickly through the city.

The move caught some Cabinet ministers by surprise. Foreign Minister Thanat Khoma listened to it on a portable radio at a dinner.

Wants Change in Election Method

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A suit challenging the method by which Pine Bluff aldermen are elected was submitted Tuesday to the chief judge of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to determine if a hearing on the suit should be conducted by a three-judge appellate panel.

The suit was filed in December 1968 by four Pine Bluff residents, including William Dove Sr., president of the Pine Bluff Chapter of the NAACP.

The suit contends the election of aldermen by all city residents is unconstitutional because a black candidate can win in his own ward but lose the election because of the majority of white voters in the city.

Vietnamese to Begin Air Strikes

SAIGON (AP) — For the first time in the Vietnam war, the South Vietnamese air force will soon begin regular strikes against the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in eastern Laos.

Informed sources said today that the South Vietnamese would join the U.S. Air Force and Navy during the next six months in bombing North Vietnamese troops and supplies moving south along the trail network during the dry season.

South Vietnamese participation initially will be taken, a few missions flown each day compared to hundreds by American fliers. Informed sources said there is no suggestion that the South Vietnamese can take over the bulk of the air campaign in Laos any time soon, as they have already done in South Vietnam, but it will be a start.

Unless there is a political settlement with the Communists, the United States will have to do most of the bombing in southeastern Laos for many months to come.

Civil Rights Commission Raps Nixon

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Rights Commission says President Nixon has failed to provide leadership for efforts against discrimination. But its chairman says federal officials must share the blame.

The commission issued Tuesday a report entitled, "The Federal Civil Rights Enforcement Effort: One Year Later." Agency by agency, the report outlined federal efforts in carrying out antidiscrimination policies in hiring and promotion of minority employees. Each agency also was assessed on progress in enforcing a law banning discrimination wherever federal money is spent.

"The President's posture as gleaned from his statements and other actions over the last six months have not been such as to provide the clear affirmative policy direction necessary to assure that the full weight of the federal government will be behind the right to secure equal rights for minorities," the report stated.

Within minutes after the document was released, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, commission chairman and president of Notre Dame University, read a statement in which he said he spoke for all six members of his panel:

"Those who keep pinning the blame entirely on the President tend to forget the wide discretion that federal officials have in performing their duties. We cannot agree with those who claim that the problem lies solely with this administration or with the President personally."

Asked about the difference in tone and emphasis, Hesburgh answered, "The report says what it says and we stand on what it says."

The commission's acting staff director, John Buggs, denied there was a conflict and noted portions of Hesburgh's statement calling on Nixon to provide leadership in the civil rights field.

Plans Medical Care Project

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D - Ark., urged Tuesday that the national Office of Economic Opportunity give immediate approval to a Jefferson County proposal for a paramedical and out-patient care project.

In a letter to Philip Sanchez, acting OEO director, McClellan said there had been "inordinate delays" in processing the application during the last three fiscal years.

Pay Board Hung Up on Retroactive Raises and Labor May Quit Group

Decision Due Today by Labor Leaders

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Labor leaders decide today whether to recommend that the AFL-CIO quit the federal Pay Board. The labor group's economist has reported that he believes the board in effect has killed hopes for full retroactive pay.

The main issue for labor before the Pay Board in Washington is the payment of wage increases which were due contractually during the wage-price freeze which ended Sunday.

The 15-member Pay Board refused last week, over the solid vote of the five labor members, to grant general retroactivity. It did agree to decide each case of retroactive pay on its merits.

The Pay Board met intermittently for seven hours on Tuesday, with the matter of retroactive pay reported to be the top item of consideration. But the board recessed until today without issuing any new directives. Retroactive pay is expected to again be a prime topic.

U.S. Disappointed in Chinese Barbs

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials say Red China's anti-U.S. barbs at the United Nations were "disappointing" and "unhappily predictable," but they will not affect President Nixon's Peking visit next year.

Ambassador George Bush termed Peking's inaugural U.N. speech Tuesday "a disappointment for all those who wish to see the United Nations promote the goals of peace and progress."

However, Bush said, the criticisms of the United States were only "empty cannons of rhetoric."

China had charged the United States with trying to keep the mainland out of the world body, and demanded U.S. withdrawal from Taiwan and Indochina.

But officials in Washington said statement alone will not affect plans for President Nixon's trip, which will be further coordinated next month when a second White House advance party is due to visit Peking.

In his foreign-affairs report to the nation last February, Nixon said mainland China "continues to convey to its own people and to the world its determination to cast us in the pected to again be a prime topic.

Nathaniel Goldfinger, the AFL-CIO's chief economist, flew here after the Pay Board's meeting and said, however, that the board had voted to table action on retroactive pay pending further study.

Goldfinger, who serves as AFL-CIO President George Meany's alternate on the Pay Board, said he considered the action rejection of blanket retroactivity and that there was no assurance the board would again consider the issue.

He said he had left a staff member in Washington to sit in on further Pay Board meetings for Meany.

The meeting here today draws Meany and the 35-man executive council of the 117-union federation.

Their recommendations on what labor's course should be in regard to the Pay Board will be sent to the 1,000 delegates representing 14 million AFL-CIO members who open the federation's convention here Thursday.

devil's role. Our modest efforts to prove otherwise have not reduced Peking's doctrinaire enmity toward us.

"So long as this is true, so long as Peking continued to be adamant for hostility, there is little we can do by ourselves to improve the relationship," he added. "What we can do, we will."

Since then, Nixon's efforts led to the visit by Dr. Henry Kissinger to Peking in July, and his trip in October to perfect arrangements for the Nixon trip.

Communist China's propaganda blasts at the United States moderated somewhat last spring they described Nixon's hands as "red with blood" because of his Vietnamization policy which Peking claimed prolongs the war.

The latest New China New Agency attack on Nixon came Tuesday and called him "hypocritical" because he had announced that 45,000 American troops were being withdrawn in December and January from South Vietnam. The broadcast called for total withdrawal.

Some U.S. authorities expect that a form of two-track diplomacy will develop with Peking saying one thing out loud and another in private.

Taiwan Loses Another Seat

GENEVA (AP) — The International Labor Organization has voted to seat the Chinese Communists and expel the Nationalists, and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade has deprived the Nationalists of their official observer status.

The actions Tuesday were in line with the U.N. General Assembly decision to seat the Communists and expel the Nationalists. The vote of the ILO governing body was 36 to 3 with eight abstentions. The only opposing votes were two from the United States—representing business and labor—and one from South Vietnam. However, U.S. employer delegate Edward Neilan supported Taiwan's expulsion. He gave no explanation.

The United States also opposed the GATT action, as did Brazil, South Africa, Greece, Spain and four African nations. Nationalist China lodged strong protests in both cases.

Mariner 9 Pictures Helpful

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists say Mariner 9's third peek through a hole in the dust storm shrouding Mars has given them the key to understanding strange ridge-like features near the planet's south pole.

Somehow the frozen carbon dioxide covering part of the pole has dissipated the dust above, allowing the orbiting spacecraft's television cameras Tuesday to see through for the third time. Scientists planned to photograph the area again today while the dust continues to blot out the rest of the planet.

"We clearly have the ability even with the dust storm to map this feature in detail," said Dr. Bruce Murray of the California Institute of Technology. "It's too early to tell what caused these features but detailed study of these photographs will allow us to tell what they are."

The 400-mile-long ridges puzzled scientists when Mariner 7 observed them from 2,000 miles away in 1969.

It was winter then, and the entire south pole of Mars was covered with frozen carbon dioxide—dry ice.

Scientists couldn't tell if the ridges were mountains covered with carbon dioxide snow or were solid carbon dioxide. Some experts suggested they might be grooves in the planet's surface carved by glaciers of dry ice, just as ice glaciers on earth have valleys and ridges.

But it's spring on Mars now and much of the carbon dioxide has vanished into the atmosphere as gas. Geologists think they can see the same tell-tale lines.

"It's already clear that the south polar cap on Mars is controlled by peculiar topographical features that don't exist in equatorial regions," Murray said.

Dr. Carl Sagan of Cornell University said Tuesday that the Soviet Union's two spacecraft now approaching the planet, Mars 2 and 3, might encounter severe trouble if they attempt to land. He said the strong winds that have whipped the dust into the atmosphere might blow the Russian craft off course if they attempt to land using a parachute or aerodynamic braking system.

Pupil Assaults LR Teacher

LITTLE ROCK, AP — A 12-year-old pupil at Little Rock High School was found guilty Tuesday in Municipal Court here on a charge of assaulting a teacher.

Mrs. Marian Hulsey of Benton claimed she was slapped on the arm and shoved by Coley in a corridor outside the teachers' lounge at the school between classes on the morning of Oct. 25.

Special Judge Allan W. Horne fined Coley $104.50, but suspended it.

Military Procurement Bill Signed

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed today a $21.3-billion military procurement bill but said he would ignore one of its provisions—the Mansfield amendment urging him to set a final date for the withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina.

Nixon said in a statement that the amendment "is without binding force or effect; and it does not reflect my judgment about the way the war should be brought to a conclusion."

The President charged, too, that "legislative actions such as this hinder rather than assist in the search for a negotiated settlement."

The procurement authorization bill provides for continuation of construction on the antiballistic missile system, as well as other research and development programs. It also includes an amendment removing the President's authority to ban chrome imports from Rhodesia.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the Rhodesian amendment, a congressional move to force resumption of the imports, does not go into effect until January 1972. And, Ziegler said, Nixon will take no action nor have any comment while negotiations are under way between Britain and Rhodesia on the future of the white settler rebel government in South Africa.

Red Chinese at UN Enjoy American Food

NEW YORK (AP) — Red China's representatives at the United Nations stoke up on fresh fruit, soup and copious mugs of hot water before entering the diplomatic arena.

"Hot water is about all they do drink," said John J. Amodeo, director of catering at the Roosevelt Hotel where Peking's delegation is staying.

Wine and liquor are no rarity in China, but the U.N. envoys have so far shunned spirits. "They have had one guest that I know of—an Albanian," said Amodeo, "and when he had dinner in the private dining room we set up for them, he asked for a glass of beer."

Out of the 50 Chinese sitting in that room, only one joined the guest in a beer.

Peking may not approve of U.S. foreign policy, but so far it has found nothing wrong with American food.

A Return to Old Order and Methods Unlikely

NEW YORK (AP) — Some economists are warning that a return to the old order of economic methods and the growing feeling that the traditional methods of doing business are obsolete.

The apparent alienation of a large part of the investing public, perhaps ending an era in which the number of investors grew fivefold in less than three decades.

The continued strength of the consumer movement, not only in extreme and obvious ways, but in the growing sophistication with which individuals withhold or spend their discretionary income rather than submit to seller's pressure.

The growing recognition that ecology is not just something to talk about but something to act upon, illustrated by the growing documentation of abuses and the increasing severity of the damage.

When in a Hospital You Don't Like to Hear These Remarks

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a hospital patient gets tired of hearing:

"Confidentially, Harry, what did they really find wrong with you?"

"Do you think that in your case it might be psychosomatic?"

"What do they charge you at this resort, Harry?"

"I never saw you looking better, kid, except when you were feeling worse."

"My, my, Mr. Bilgewater, I do hope we had a pleasant night."

"What are you looking so uneasy about, sir? Surely you've seen a bedpan before."

"I'm the priest at the hospital here. Would you care to make a confession, or just have a little chat?"

"Just between us, Harry, what did they really find wrong with you?"

"Yeah, I've been in this room a month. The last guy in your bed seemed to be coming along just fine when, all of a sudden, he was gone—just like you blow out a candle."

"As your wife, Harry, I hope that you'll take this illness as a warning from heaven to live a more sensible existence than you have for the last 25 years."

"I'm your wife's lawyer, Mr. Bilgewater. Of course, we know everything is going to be okay, but Mrs. Bilgewater thought we ought to bring your will up to date. Purely precautionary, naturally. Just sign here."

"Hi, you old rascal. I sneaked in a bottle of bourbon and a couple of paper cups. Let's have a couple of snorts. You don't get operated on until morning and a guy could die before then."

"You can trust me completely, Harry. What did they really find wrong with you?"

"If they find any gallstones, will you have them save one for me? It would be cute to have somebody else's gallstone for a souvenir. I might even have it made into a ring."

"I brought along the $20 bucks I owe you, Harry, but if it's all right with you, I'd just as soon pay you when you wake up after the operation."

"Don't let them tell you that you'll only have gas pains for three days. You may have them off and on for years."

"I'm a chronic patient from down the hall. Boy, if you knew like I do what goes on in this hospital, you'd get out of here."

Computer is Aid to Dentists

ATLANTA (AP) — Emory University's school of dentistry is putting a computer to work at diagnosing tooth ailments and cancer of the jaw.

A computerized image-processing technique which has been used to analyze aerial photographs will be used in conjunction with X-rays at the school's diagnostic clinic.

Dr. Joseph Bassell, director of the clinic, says the technique can lessen the chances of erroneously extracting a healthy tooth and may provide an alternative for surgical treatment of cancer of the jaw.

Amendments Bog Tax Cut Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today voted to add amendments to the Social Security increases and a fast-track presidential campaign-finance plan to the 60-hour tax-cut bill.

As a result, leaders virtually abandoned plans to finish action on the legislation by tonight. The Nixon administration suffered further defeats in consideration of the bill Tuesday as three amendments costing about $17.5 billion a year were adopted.

These would: Give low-income families additional tax relief this year by making the new $1,300 minimum standard deduction effective immediately, rather than in 1972. Under present law, the 1972 deduction is $1,050. The amendment would add $992 million to the cost of the bill.

Give a 10-per-cent investment credit to job-creating enterprises in central cities with unemployment of 6 per cent or more. The cost: $500 million a year.

Allow a 10-per-cent credit on investments that create jobs in rural areas, at an annual cost of $250 million.

In another major vote, the Senate approved 53 to 29 an amendment granting the president power to impose a 15-per-cent surcharge on imports, in place of the present 10-per-cent levy. The measure also allows the president to slap quotas on any products moving into the United States.

A president could activate the quota provisions, which opponents claimed could touch off an international trade war, by declaring an emergency exists in the U.S. balance of payments.

Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., planned to offer the tax bill today an amendment carrying all the Social Security increases in the welfare-reform bill that passed the House last June.

They include a general 5-per-cent hike in all benefits, a special increase for widows, and a plan to adjust payments in the future to increases in the cost of living.

Charges Pair Had Kids for Sale

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — An Oklahoma Boy Scout leader and his painting partner have been charged with trying to sell a 2-year-old boy and his 3-year-old sister to a police undercover agent for $7,000 and a used car.

Held without bond in the Duval County Jail were Milford Bennett, 37, also known as William O'Hara, and Robert Westenhaver, 22, both of Oklahoma City.

They were charged Tuesday with attempting to sell the children tentatively identified as Butch and Teresa Cox of Oklahoma City.

Duval County police said they have not yet determined the whereabouts of the children's parents.

Police said Bennett carried cards identifying him as the leader of Boy Scout Troop 185 in Oklahoma City.

Investigator W.E. Beacham said the undercover agent, who was not identified, was casually acquainted with Bennett and mentioned during a conversation a year ago that he was interested in adopting a couple of children.

Beacham said Bennett and Westenhaver both said they were painters. Last Friday, Beacham said, Bennett called the agent and said he had a 2-year-old-boy for sale and expected to have a 3-year-old girl in two or three weeks.

"The agent contacted us then called back to argue about the price," Beacham said. "Monday Bennett called and said he was on the way with the boy. They got into Jacksonville this morning and called the agent to say they had both children with them."

"After they arrived, they settled on a price of $7,000 and a used car. The reason for the car was because one of them didn't have one."

"Bennett took the kids to the agent's house, got $100 in marked money as a binder on the deal then left them with the agent's wife when the agent took him to dinner. Once we had our hands on the children, we moved in and arrested Bennett at the restaurant and got Westenhaver at a motel."

"While we were making the arrests, the agent's wife took the kids out and bought them some clothes. They only had what was on their backs."

"The kids were in kind of rough shape. The little boy had some cigarette burns on him and the little girl had some bruises."

Yorty Candidate for Democratic Nomination

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty has become the second declared candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, saying his campaign will appeal to party members dissatisfied with "left-wing Democratic leaders" as well as President Nixon.

In joining the race with Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, Yorty said he would enter the New Hampshire primary next year.

"We have no intention of trying to raise huge sums of money necessary to enter all of the primaries," he told a news conference Tuesday. "The California primary will climax our campaign. Other states may be added as the campaign progresses."

Like Jesse James Days

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — "I thought that sort of thing went out with the stagecoach," a robbery victim said Tuesday night. "But it was like Jesse James all over again."

Two men wearing bandanas over their faces and armed with a rifle and shotgun walked into services at the First Church of the Nazarene and robbed two ministers and about 40 churchgoers of their watches and money.

No one was injured but one holdup man fired a shotgun blast into the ceiling when the congregation misunderstood his instructions.

Kansas City police arrested two men in connection with the robbery 30 minutes later.

American Motors Price Hike Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission approved today a request by American Motors Corp. to raise prices by 2.5 per cent on 1972 model automobiles.

The commission also announced that it has asked for additional detailed information from Chrysler Corp., which has filed a request for automobile price boosts averaging about 5.9 per cent.

"This action extends the decision period for 72 hours beyond the time Chrysler files the additional information with the commission," the commission said in a statement.

The Ford Motor Co. has requested initial price boosts averaging 2 per cent based on deferred labor costs, the statement said, and added the commission is studying the Ford request.

As for American Motors, the commission said:

"The approval of the request was justified by allowable costs, taking into consideration productivity, and the manufacturers' price changes will not increase their profit margin over the base period level."

In short, the commission held that American Motors meets the general price guidelines it laid down last week.

Manufacturers may boost prices to offset increased costs as long as the company's profit margin is not enlarged over two of the last three years in which the firm enjoyed its best profit margin.

Showers Are Predicted for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers and thundershowers are expected to reach the northwest portion of Arkansas by late tonight and then spread across the rest of the state Thursday and Thursday night.

Precipitation was increasing this morning from western Texas as northeastward through western Oklahoma and much of Kansas to eastern Nebraska and western Iowa. The shower activity is a result of a large, complex low pressure system.

Temperatures are expected to be a little warmer tonight and not quite so warm Thursday because of increased cloudiness and the chance of precipitation. Cooler air over the southern Rockies should be moved into the state behind the low pressure system, producing more normal temperatures by Sunday and Monday.

Highs today should be mostly in the 70s with highs Thursday in the mid 60s to mid 70s. Low tonight should be in the upper 40s to mid 50s.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 46, Harrison 52, Jonesboro 44, Pine Bluff 47, Texarkana 58, El Dorado 46, Memphis 44, Little Rock 45 and Fort Smith 50.

No rainfall was reported in the state during the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. today.

Church Bells Pollutants?

Dear Helen:
I'm so mad I could scream! Last night I read they're going to prevent churches from ringing bells in our area because of "noise pollution."

They allow motorcycles, riveting machines, planes, trains, sirens, etc. Church bells are soothing. These other noises insult your eardrums.

Just because a few people get irritated about being awakened on Sunday morning, our lovely bells and carillons may be silenced. If I knew who were the complainers, I'd go run my power lawn mower right under their windows—at 7 a.m.—FIGHTING MAD

Dear Mad:

Now is THAT the Christian spirit?

I love the sound of church bells, too, and have wondered why, in recent years, we hear them so little. Instead of fighting back with your power mower, why not initiate a petition to the powers that be—at City Hall?—H.

Dear Helen:

I'm not loverlorn—I'm shopworn!

I just returned from another grocery "special" hunt—without half of the specials. The reason? "We just sold out," clerks told me. Or else the specials are so well hidden that the only place you can find them is in the newspaper ad. Or else "prime, full cut round steak" at 89 cents per pound is about one-fourth bone and fat—no bargain, but it lured me to the store.

Isn't there something we can do about "leader" items that either aren't there or are "misleaders"?—SHOPPING MAD

Dear Shopping Mad:

The Federal Trade Commission has ruled in shoppers' favor. A law adopted last July states that food stores offering grocery "specials" must make them readily available at the stated price or lower—and so-called "rain checks" are not the answer, for this lures the customer back to the store the

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. JERRY WESTMORELAND

The Bruce Memorial Methodist Church in Blevins was the setting for the wedding of Miss Sharon Carman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Carman and The Rev. Jerry Westmoreland, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Westmoreland, all of Prescott, on Friday, November 5, at 7:00 p.m.

The Rev. John Rushing performed the ceremony assisted by The Rev. Joy Callicott. Vows were exchanged before an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gladioli flanked by a pair of Swedish brass candelabras holding white cathedral tapers. Along the chancel rail were garlands of English Boxwood. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Joe Eason, organist, played a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Don Johnson, who sang "Because". As the couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight ivory skimmer silhouette of imported silk peau de soie with a scalloped bodice yoke of re-embroidered velvet over imported silk organza. The detachable chapel train was fashioned of the venise lace and outlined with the peau de soie. Her fingertip veil was a cluster of lace leaves encircled with tiny pearls attached to a bouffant veil of imported English illusion. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of frenched mums and tulle centered with a natural cattleya orchid, backing the bouquet was polished English ivy leaves.

Mrs. Larry Carman, sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor and Mrs. Jim Westmoreland, sister-in-law of the groom, was bridesmaid. Their floor length dresses were identical in princess style of pink crepe designed with an empire waistline accented by a band and bow with streamers of rose velvet. They wore dior bows of pink carnation surrounded by pink tulle interspersed with rose velvet streamers ending in love knots.

Jim Westmoreland served his brother as best man. Larry Carman, brother of the bride served as groomsmen. Eddie Ray Bryson and Tommy Montgomery ushered. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carman wore a pink and white suit with black accessories. Mrs. Westmoreland wore a pink and beige coat dress with beige accessories. Both pinned a japhet orchid at their shoulder. Mrs. W. G. Westmoreland, grandmother of the groom, wore pink carnations.

The guests signed the brides book on a table in the vestibule holding arrangement of pink and white carnation in a cupid container. The couple are at home in Hope. Rev. Westmoreland is associate pastor and Youth Director at the First United Methodist Church.

Acupuncture Course Opens

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The University of Washington's Experimental College opens a course this week in Chinese acupuncture, the 4,000-year-old practice of inserting needles into a patient to alleviate disorders.

The aim is to "reach the organ, system, or nerve to give stimulation of the system and cure or alleviate all kinds of disorders," explained Prof. Mifoo Hsu, a graduate of acupuncture schools in Hong Kong and Tokyo who will teach the course.

Don M. Schiffman, director of the Experimental College, said Hsu's course will delve into the history and method of the art rather than attempt to prepare acupuncture practitioners.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — ABC and CBS moved Tuesday to cut their losses and attempt to improve their schedules. NBC made its move 10 days earlier.

The upheaval begins at the end of this month and continues through the first of the year. Viewers just settling into their viewing habits will have to start over.

A dozen or so programs have been shifted to new nights and different time periods. Twelve programs have been canceled or temporarily retired, 10 of them new series. All but one have been scraping the bottom of the Nielsen ratings list.

Network television's 1971 season seems to have demonstrated clearly one fact: Big motion picture stars do not necessarily make big television stars. The same is true about singing idols.

Among the ABC programs which will soon disappear are Shirley MacLaine's "Shirley's World," Anthony Quinn's "The Man and the City," and Bobby Sherman's "Getting Together." Henry Fonda's "The Smith Family" will be shelved until spring, presumably returning only for reruns. None of the shows, despite the luster of the stars, made the grade with the television fans.

CBS, to nobody's surprise, will soon divest itself of "The Bearcats" and "Chicago Teddy Bears," neither of which was worth salvaging. The network had tough luck when Sandy Duncan's "Funny Face" had to be discontinued the rest of this season after its young star's eye surgery and convalescence. Since the comedy series has proved one of this season's hits, it will undoubtedly be picked up again next season.

NBC's "Sarge" tried to combine action and religion in a hero who was a priest and had once been a cop, but the network found it didn't work. "The D. A." lacked something it contained in a couple of pilot shows, and "The Funny Side" wasn't funny enough. They will soon be gone.

More shows will disappear quietly. But the "Second Season" newcomers, announced by the networks really don't sound much more exciting.

Firm Plans to Make Movie of Claud Garner's Book

Chester Lauck, who portrayed "Lum" in the famed "Lum and Abner" radio classic and in ten motion pictures, is launching another effort in the entertainment world.

Lauck's current venture into movies and TV will not be as a performer, but as representative of the historical novels of Claud Garner, widely acclaimed Arkansas author.

"Any of the books of Claud Garner provides better plot, better characterization and truly real historical drama than 90 per cent of the motion picture and TV material seen today," Lauck said in announcing his latest project.

Extravagant Bid Costs 600

his partner in with the queen of hearts.

West cashed the rest of the diamond suit and eventually led a heart to his partner's 10 to set declarer five tricks.

Apart from the silly bidding the main point of interest in this hand is when East ducked the first club. South could have saved 600 points from the wreck by cashing four spade tricks, but we can't blame South for not doing this. He could not be sure of the location of the heart queen and must have had some hope of bringing home his contract. Anyway, what is an extra 600 points penalty to a man who bids like South?

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The only way to explain South's bidding is that the authors of the encyclopedia of bridge wanted to find a hand to illustrate the Deschappelles Coup which consists of the sacrifice of an honor to establish an entry to partner's hand.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and saw that South was going to get away with his silly three no-trump contract unless West could produce the queen of either hearts or clubs.

If he held the queen of clubs it would keep. If he held the queen of hearts it was up to East to put it to immediate use.

Therefore, East led the king of hearts at trick two. South took dummy's ace and went after clubs. East ducked the first club, but won the second one and put project. "We intend to call the work of this Arkansas author to the attention of leading film and TV producers in Hollywood who are always seeking material with guts."

Rights to represent the novels of Claud Garner were acquired this week by Lauck and Hobbs, Inc., of Hot Springs.

Lauck and Harlan Hobbs, his partner in their Hot Springs-based firm, worked together in Hollywood in both radio and films prior to organization of their Arkansas enterprise.

Hobbs, long associated with Paramount Pictures, represented, in addition to Lum and Abner, such stars as Amos and Andy, Bob Burns, Susan Hayward, Robert Preston, and Mary Martin.

"The Cornbread Aristocrat," a historical novel set in Washington (Hempstead County) immediately prior to the Civil War, will receive first attention among Hollywood Producers," Lauck revealed.

"We think this novel has film potential for producers that hasn't been available since 'Gone With The Wind'," Lauck said.

"Our objective is not only to obtain attention of an outstanding producer, but to seek production in Arkansas on the actual sites portrayed."

Hobbs will be in Hollywood in November for a series of meetings with producers, studios and distributors regarding the Garner books. Lauck will join him in California early in December for further conferences regarding the Garner books.

"Sam Houston, Texas Giant" is the latest of the Claud Garner novels. Published in late 1969, it is considered by many critics and historians to be the best documented and most complete work ever published about the great American patriot," Hobbs said.

"Not since Daniel Boone became a hero of screen and TV has there been such a treasure of material as in Claud Garner's book on Sam Houston," he added. "There is one great difference, however. Most of the Daniel Boone stories are sheer fiction, while almost all of Claud Garner's 'Sam Houston' is pure, documented fact. The truth about Houston is so dramatic and vital that little fiction is required. This is the stuff of which film epics are made, and," Hobbs added, "profitable TV series."

Garner, a native of Arkansas, also wrote "Wetback," "The Young Texans," and "Word of Honor." In addition to his success as a novelist, Garner has been a prosperous fruit grower in the Rio Grande Valley and a Texas Oil Company executive. He spends his time between his homes in Weatherford, Tex., and Hope.

"We think Mr. Garner will soon be spending some time in Hollywood," Lauck said.

Vida Blue Picked Most Valuable

NEW YORK (AP) — Left-handed pitcher Vida Blue of the Oakland A's was named the winner of the American League Most Valuable Player award today. At 22, Blue is the youngest player ever to win an MVP honor in either league.

Blue, who won the Cy Young Award as the AL's outstanding pitcher last month, earned 14 of a possible 24 first-place votes and 268 points from the Baseball Writers Association of America committee. Sal Bando, Blue's Oakland teammate, garnered four first-place votes and 182 points to finish second.

The Robinson boys of the All-champion Baltimore Orioles gained the next two places. Outfielder Frank Robinson received 170 points and two first-place votes to finish third, while third baseman Brooks Robinson collected 163 points and three first-place votes to come in fourth.

Detroit pitcher Mickey Lolich, runner-up to Blue in the Cy Young balloting, got the other first-place vote and finished fifth with 155 points.

A total of 29 players were mentioned in the MVP voting. Blue was the only player to be named on every ballot.

Until Blue received the honor, the youngest player to be named MVP was Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench in 1970. Bench was just a few weeks shy of his 23rd birthday when he received his MVP award, while Blue will not turn 23 until next July 28.

The hard-throwing left-hander, in his first full season of major league ball, compiled a 24-8 record, led the league with a 1.82 earned run average, completed 24 of his 39 starts and struck out 301 batters.

In addition to his 14 first-place votes, Blue also received four seconds, two thirds and one each for fourth, fifth, seventh and eighth.

Blue is the fifth pitcher to win both the Cy Young and MVP honors. Don Newcombe did it in 1956, the year the Cy Young Award was initiated. The others were Sandy Koufax in 1963, Bob Gibson, 1968, and Denny McLain, also 1968.

He is the fifth pitcher to win the American League MVP since the award was first issued 40 years ago. Hal Newhouse won it twice, in 1944 and 1945. The other pitchers to win the MVP were Lefty Grove, 1931; Spud Chandler, 1943; Bob-

Penn State Has Inside Track to Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP) — How does Texas versus Penn State in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day sound?

"Don't put any grocery money on it but this combination appears to have the best odds in the fast-developing post-season collegiate football scene."

The Longhorns can clinch their fourth consecutive Southwest Conference title Thanksgiving Day with a victory over the surging Texas Aggies who have won their last four games.

If that happens, Texas would get the host role.

Penn State is undefeated but must play Pittsburgh Saturday and rugged Tennessee on Dec. 4.

Cotton Bowl officials will be on hand Saturday to see the Nittany Lions play and don't be surprised if they issue them an invitation, gambling Texas will defeat the Aggies.

Georgia and Notre Dame also are contenders for the guest spot

Stuttgart Rated Best in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Associated Press high school football poll looks like an instant replay of last week.

The top eight teams in the poll remain intact, with top-ranked Stuttgart receiving 11 of the 15 first-place votes cast by a panel of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Port Smith Northside, Little Rock Hall, Hot Springs, Little Rock Parkview, Little Rock McClellan, Little Rock Catholic and Texarkana rank in that order behind the Ricebirds just as they did last week. All eight won last week.

The only changes in the top 10 were at the bottom where unbeaten Morrilton moved into the No. 9 spot and once-tied Rogers took over the No. 10 position. Neither was ranked last week. Morrilton replaced Forrest City, which was tied last week by West Memphis, and Rogers moved up when 10th-ranked North Little Rock lost to Northside.

Stuttgart, Morrilton and Rogers continue 1-2-3 in the Class AA rankings. Rogers and Stuttgart meet Friday night at Russellville in the semifinals of the Class AA playoffs. Morrilton plays Magnolia in the other playoff game.

The Class A rankings underwent wholesale changes after top-ranked Rison and second-ranked Augusta were beaten in the first round of the Class A playoffs. Clarendon, which beat Rison, took over the No. 1 spot in the poll followed by Walnut Ridge and Nashville. Clarendon and Walnut Ridge meet Friday night at Searcy in the playoffs. Nashville meets Atkins in the other playoff game.

Harding Academy, Gillett and Danville are still 1-2-3 in the Class B rankings, but Danville and Gillett play Friday night at Conway. In the other Class B playoff game, Harding meets Magnet Cove.

Here are the results of The Associated Press high school football poll with first place votes and team records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. Stuttgart (11) (10-1)	140
2. FS Northside (3) (10-1)	133
3. LR Hall (7-2)	106
4. Hot Springs (1) (9-1)	104
5. LR Parkview (8-2)	99
6. LR McClellan (9-2)	77
7. LR Catholic (5-2-1)	47
8. Texarkana (8-3)	34
9. Morrilton (11-0)	36
10. Rogers (9-0-1)	23
Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Benton, Forrest City, Helena, Magnolia, Nashville and North Little Rock.

in the bowl. It appears the big four of Auburn, Alabama, Oklahoma and Nebraska will be going elsewhere.

Reports have Oklahoma and Auburn meeting in the Sugar Bowl with Alabama and Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

"All the top teams are prospects until they notify us," said a Cotton Bowl official. "We've only been notified by one team that we are not in their picture. Certainly Penn State is a prospect. So are Georgia and Notre Dame."

Georgia has been defeated by Auburn and Notre Dame also has been beaten. Notre Dame has been to the Cotton Bowl the past two years to play Texas when the Longhorns were ranked No. 1. It's not likely they would want to come back again unless they could improve their national ranking. Notre Dame is rated seventh and Texas is No. 12.

Penn State is sixth-ranked and Georgia is eighth-ranked. Georgia was in the Cotton Bowl in 1967 with Penn State's

Duck Season to Open Saturday, November 20

Duck season opens on Saturday, November 20, and there are some rules and regulations that might pay local hunters to read.

In the Bois d'Arc area no overnight camping will be allowed on Game and Fish Commission property except at the Hatfield landing. And hunters are asked to please don't pick ducks in the water.

Another important rule is that all vehicles must stay on established roads. In other words hunters can't drive their cars through the woods anywhere.

Hunting is allowed from 30

Neumann Leads Pros to Victory in ABA Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Johnny Neumann, the Memphis Pros' million-dollar baby, was hardly playing like a five or ten-cent bargain ... until he went against the Floridians Tuesday night.

Then, the former University of Mississippi star, the leading major college scorer in the nation last season, began earning his professional pay.

The 20-year-old Neumann, one of the youngest players in the American Basketball Association, erupted for his pro career high of 32 points, leading the Pros to a 119-109 victory over the Floridians.

Denver edged Indiana 111-108 in the only other ABA game Tuesday night.

Neumann had averaged 40.1 points a game in his only varsity season at Mississippi, before leaving Ole Miss after his sophomore year and signing his lucrative contract with Memphis. He was regarded as a "hardship" case, because his father suffered a heart attack near the end of the season.

With Memphis early in the season, he played little and scored little. But Coach Babe McCarthy was not worried. "Johnny has the potential of being a superstar, but there's no sense in rushing him," said McCarthy. "There is no doubt that he has a world of ability."

McCarthy's patience paid off against the Floridians. Neumann scored 14 points during a nine-minute span when the Pros erased a 35-25 deficit and charged into a commanding 53-43 lead late in the first half. He finished as the game's high scorer.

Bob Warren of the Pros and Larry Jones of the Floridians each scored 27 points.

Larry Brown's jump shot with 1:17 remaining put Denver ahead of Indiana 109-107 and Julius Keyes clinched the victory with two free throws with 10 seconds left.

Ralph Simpson paced the Rockets with 31 points. Mel Daniels was high for Indiana with 23 points, 16 in the final period.

The loss dropped the Pacers out of first place in the West Division, one-half game behind idle Utah.

only appearance in 1948 when it fought SMU to a 13-13 tie.

Penn State might be eager to accept a Cotton Bowl bid if it is overlooked by the Orange and Sugar Bowls because of the running feud it had with Texas in 1969 over who was the No. 1 team in the nation.

The Nittany Lions passed up a chance to play in the Cotton Bowl that year and Texas went on to claim the national championship.

Both Texas and Pennsylvania have strong high school football programs and such a game would have state pride at stake, if nothing else.

Cotton Bowl officials also will be present at the LSU-Notre Dame game in Baton Rouge, La. Saturday.

But it appears Penn State, which could help draw a strong television audience from the East, has the inside track to the guest role in the Cotton Bowl—if it wants it.

The official word is expected to come at 5 p.m. CST Saturday.

Quarry Sets Sights on World Crown

WEMBLEY, England (AP) — Jerry Quarry, fresh from scoring a sensational first-round knockout in his British debut, set his sights today on a world heavyweight title elimination bout here in London against George Foreman.

Quarry, the No. 4 contender for Joe Frazier's world crown, slammed Britain's European champion Jack Bodell into oblivion in 64 seconds of a scheduled 10-rounder Tuesday night.

"I'm keen to fight Foreman next, but I don't know whether he'll want to fight me after what I've just done to Bodell," said Quarry, of Bellflower, Calif.

He was delighted with the ecstatic reception he got from 9,000 British fans at Wembley's indoor stadium and said he would like the fight to be staged here.

Describing the right hook that sank Bodell, Quarry said, "I felt it right up my arm and I knew he'd gone. It wasn't my best punch, but it was a pretty capable one."

San Jose Player Earns Lineman of Week Award

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer — San Jose State was supposed to be a breather last week for Stanford, which boasted the national college Lineman of the Week in linebacker Jeff Siemon.

When the Spartans left town, Stanford was breathing hard and San Jose State had the Associated Press Lineman of the Week.

His name is Dave Chaney and all the 5-foot-11, 218-pound linebacker from Greenfield, Calif., did was make 17 tackles—12 unassisted—sacked the quarterback once, intercepted a pass, deflected another, recovered two fumbles, forced a third and tackled the Stanford punter on the one-yard line to set up a touchdown.

"We had the All-American out there," chortled Coach Dewey King, "and his name was Dave Chaney. Siemon was good, too, but our boy was the best. Dave is an All-American. There isn't anyone any better."

Stanford's John Halston knew all about Chaney beforehand. "That Chaney has been a ti-

NEW YORK (AP) — "The humane society," says Coach Charles Y. McClendon of Louisiana State, "oughta step in and cancel the game before putting my little boys on the field against Notre Dame."

Forget it, humane society, because the LSU fans have been waiting for this one ever since last year's heartbreaking 3-0 loss at Notre Dame. Revenge—even the thought of it—is beautiful. And come Saturday night, the Bayou Bengals get Notre Dame in their own lair at Baton Rouge, La.

"I knew we had 11 games this season," says McClendon, "and my players knew it. But not many of our fans knew it. There's no way they were gonna forget who we're playing Saturday night."

Notre Dame's Ara Parseghian, whose own fans aren't the most genial hosts of all time, has no qualms about invading the Baton Rouge snakepit. "When I was at North-western," he points out, "I brought teams to South Bend and won. I've taken Notre Dame teams to all kinds of stadiums. The Cotton Bowl isn't exactly the easiest place for a visiting team to play."

"But the crowd can't throw one block or throw one pass or run for any yardage." For better or worse, the first pick this week is ... LSU.

Ohio State at Michigan—Another revenge game. Last year was Ohio State's turn after Michigan spoiled their perfect 1969 record and they answered back by doing the same to the Wolverines. Michigan, ranked third, has a shot at the national championship should the Nebraska-Oklahoma survivor lose its bowl game. MICHIGAN.

Air Force at Colorado—Air Force has the revenge motive but the better team belongs to ... COLORADO.

Arizona State at San Jose State—San Jose is coming off a stunning upset of Stanford, but unless Dee Andros has come down from Oregon State to coach the Spartans the pick is ... ARIZONA STATE.

Cornell at Penn—The Big Red is tied with Dartmouth for the Ivy League and Ed Mariano, the Big Red Machine, would like nothing better than to close out his career in a blaze of glory ... and yardage. CORNELL.

Dartmouth at Princeton—Another chance for revenge. Tigers haven't forgotten last year's 38-0 embarrassment. PRINCETON.

UCLA at Southern California—A little more salt in Pepper Rodgers' wounds ... an he wasn't even around last year when UCLA romped 45-20. SOUTHERN CAL.

Texas Tech at Arkansas—Razorbacks must win to stay alive in the Southwest Conference scramble. ARKANSAS.

California at Stanford—Stanford can't win the little ones. This is a big one. STANFORD.

Michigan State at Northwestern Michigan State beat Ohio State 17-10 two weeks ago. Northwestern beat Ohio State 14-10 last Saturday. Therefore ... MICHIGAN STATE.

Villanova at Temple—The big late-season news in Philadelphia usually is Army-Navy. That's next week. This may be better. VILLANOVA.

Harvard at Yale—THE game? Not this year. YALE.

North Carolina at Duke—Last year, Georgia blew a Peach Bowl bid by losing to Georgia Tech and North Carolina got it instead. This time, North Carolina may blow a Peach Bowl bid by losing to ... DUKE.

Razorbacks Invited to Liberty Bowl

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — It was reported Tuesday that Arkansas would be extended an invitation to play in the Dec. 20 Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., if the Razorbacks defeat Texas Tech Saturday at Fayetteville.

The sources who reported that Arkansas would receive the bid also said Tennessee would be extended a bid provided the Volunteers defeat Kentucky Saturday.

Arkansas' bid would be based on the premise that the Razorbacks would not go to the Cotton Bowl. Arkansas would be the host team in the Cotton Bowl if it beats Tech Saturday and Texas loses to Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles had no comment on the report. NCAA rules forbid issuance of a bowl bid before Saturday afternoon.

The Liberty Bowl is a night game and will be telecast nationally by the American Broadcasting Co.

The site of the Liberty Bowl holds slightly more than 50,000 persons. Based on a full house, Arkansas and Tennessee would receive $211,000 each for the game. Arkansas would keep $125,000 and the remainder would be divided equally among the Southwest Conference members.

The Razorbacks are 7-2-1 for

New Manager for Arkansas Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Carl Sawatski, general manager of the Arkansas Travelers, announced Tuesday that Fred Koenig (Kay'Nik), who was first base coach last season for the California Angels, has been named manager of the Travelers for next season.

Koenig succeeds Jack Krol, who led the Travelers to the Texas League championship this year, and who is being promoted to manage the St. Louis Cardinals' AAA club at Tulsa. Arkansas is a Class AA team.

Texas A&M QB Is Offensive Player of Week

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ Associated Press Sports Writer — Texas A&M quarterback Joe Mac King spends about 40 hours a week in classes, working toward a degree in veterinary medicine.

In his spare time, King, a senior from Mineola, dons a football uniform and directs the Aggie football team.

Last Saturday the Aggies were trailing Rice 13-12 in the fourth quarter when King put his little-used passing talents to work for four straight completions in a game-winning touchdown drive.

It was the fourth week he had started at quarterback for the floundering Aggies and they chalked up their fourth straight victory.

King completed 8 to 18 passes for 126 yards and hit Mitch Robertson for the game-winning touchdown against Rice. That earned him the Associated Press Southwest Conference offensive player of the week honor.

Last week Aggie defensive tackle Boice Best won the AP's defensive award.

A&M offensive backfield coach Jack Hurlbut says King hasn't wilted under the strain of a heavy academic load and the responsibility of directing the Aggies' offense.

"When you take into account 38 to 40 hours in the classroom, plus several hours of study per night, it doesn't leave much time," Hurlbut said. "But Joe Mac's the kind of a kid who looks like he never even thinks about the pressure."

Odds Favor Ali Over Mathis

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Buster Mathis bucks the odds tonight when he takes on a primed Muhammad Ali in a 12-round heavyweight fight in the Astrodome.

Mathis, who has not fought in 2½ years while serving a self-exile to "get myself together," is such an underdog in the fight, no betting odds have been established.

The fight is scheduled to begin at 10:50 p.m. EST before a crowd estimated at 25,000 by the promoters, Top Rank, Inc., and Astrodomo Championship Enterprises, Inc.

It also will be beamed to 27 foreign countries.

The fight is expected to answer questions about Mathis, such as, is he in shape after such a long layoff and has he regained the desire to fight he seemed to have lost March 29, 1969 in his last fight, a unanimous decision loss to Jerry Quarry.

"I think the odds are 50-50 when I step into that ring," Mathis said. "But I'm not worrying about the odds. Everybody expects me to lose anyway. But I think the world is in for a shock."

There aren't many unanswered questions about Ali. He reported here in much better condition than when he came here July 26 and beat his former sparring partner, Jimmy Ellis.

Angelo Dundee, Ali's trainer, has been pleased with Ali's condition for the fight. Ali spent much of his training time skipping rope and doing extra exercises.

Big Leads Never Mean Anything

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big leads don't mean a thing in the NBA.

"You come back from anything in this league as long as they have the 24-second clock," commented Coach Red Holzman of the New York Knicks Tuesday night after the Knicks had wiped out a 19-point deficit to beat Phoenix 112-111 in the National Basketball Association.

The Buffalo Braves, Baltimore Bullets and Golden State Warriors also came from behind to win while Seattle overcame an 18-point deficit only to lose to Chicago as the Bulls forged ahead again in the final quarter.

The Braves beat Cincinnati 102-98, Baltimore tripped Houston 110-107, Golden State overcame Detroit 122-101 and Chicago defeated Seattle 95-87. In the other NBA games Los Angeles whacked Cleveland 108-80 and Milwaukee routed Portland 125-105.

Down by 97-78 the Knicks caught fire with 9½ minutes left. Walt Frazier led the charge with 16 points, including two free throws that gave the Knicks a three-point lead at 112-109 with 17 seconds left and clinched the victory.

Altogether Frazier had 39 points for the game, his career high. Dick Van Arsdale led the Suns with 26.

Buffalo, behind by 14 points at 52-38, rallied to go ahead of the Royals at 81-80, fell behind again, then went ahead for good at 92-91 on a Mike Davis layup. Walt Hazzard was high for the Braves with 27. Nate Williams had the same for the Royals, 19 of them in the first half.

Houston led Baltimore by 107-103 with 1:19 remaining before the Bullets tied the score on two steals by Dave Stallworth and Jack Martin. A layup by Phil Chenier with 23 seconds left put Baltimore ahead to stay. Elvin Hayes of the Rockets was game high scorer with 31 points. Chenier topped the Bullets with 26.

Seattle wiped out a 42-24 deficit to tie Chicago at 55-55 in the third quarter before the Bulls came on again. Bob Love led the Bulls with 25 points. Don Kojis was high for the Super-Sonics with 22.

Joe Ellis and Nick Jones came off the bench and ignited a Warrior rally that wiped out a 10-point Detroit lead. Ellis had 10 points in the third period and Jones eight. Jeff Mullins was high for the Warriors with 33 points. Jimmy Walker had 30 for the Pistons.

The champion Milwaukee Bucks and the Los Angeles Lakers each had little trouble winning their ninth straight. Kareem Jabbar led the Bucks with 33 points. Sidney Wicks was high for Portland with 20.

Jerry West led the Lakers with 25 points. Bobby Smith paced the Cavaliers with 16.

Austin Carr, Cleveland's No. 1 draft pick who has been out with two broken bones in his right foot, played his first

Texas Tech Still Out to Win Games

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Texas Tech played 24 sophomores last week against Baylor but don't get the idea the Red Raiders have written off the season.

"We felt like when we were out of the conference race we should play some of our younger players," said Tech Coach John Carlen. "But, we're still trying to win football games."

A victory over Arkansas Saturday at Fayetteville would heal some of the wounds from what has been a disappointing season for Tech.

Tech was 8-4 in 1970. Carlen's first year, and big things were expected this fall. Some believed Tech would break the Texas-Arkansas stranglehold on the Southwest Conference.

Instead, the Raiders are 4-6 for the season and 2-4 in the SWC.

"We're having a year just about like last year, except we're not winning the close ones," Carlen said. "Last year a lot of things happened to us on a positive side. This year it's been the other way around. "Actually, the only team that beat us this year was Texas and that was early in the season in Austin before they got hurt," Carlen said.

The Longhorns whipped the Raiders 28-0. The other five losses have been by a total of 23 points and a 17-6 loss to TCU accounts for half the deficit. Prior to last week's 27-0 victory over Baylor, Tech had lost to TCU, Rice 9-7 and SMU 18-17.

Carlen says the Raiders simply don't have the speed necessary to get outside the opponents' defense.

"Losing these close ones goes back to not having a game breaker," he said.

Carlen said James Mosley and Doug McCutchen would probably be the Raiders' running backs Saturday. He said Mosley has 4.9 speed in the 40 and that McCutchen is a step slower. This compares to the 4.6-4.7 speed possessed by Arkansas' Jon Richardson and Dickey Morton.

"Arkansas, by far, is the best offensive team we've played this year," Carlen said. "Their quarterback is an excellent one and their running backs are capable of making the big runs. Their offensive line of scrimmage is excellent. I just don't see where they're short on anything on offense and their defense makes a lot of big plays."

"To slow Arkansas down we need to hold the football," Carlen said. "If you give it to that Arkansas offense too many times they'll put some points on the board."

Defense is Tech's pride and joy.

The Red Raiders lead the conference in defense and have given up only 12.3 points a game. Baylor managed only 88 yards total offense last week. Arkansas is averaging 455.3 yards a game.

Carlen started sophomore Joe Barnes at quarterback against Baylor last week and then switched to another sophomore, Jimmy Carmichael. Carlen said he would not decide who would start against the Razorbacks until shortly before the kickoff.

Carlen said Carmichael had an edge in passing and that Barnes was the better runner.

"We know we'll be walking into a hornet's nest at Fayetteville," Carlen said. "Arkansas is still in the conference race and besides that it's homecoming."

Wins Dispute Over Contract With Angels

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, who made an amazing comeback from a near fatal beating in 1967, is going to collect his full year's pay from the California Angels although he left the club in July.

"I'm sure he's happy it's over," Conigliaro's father, Sal, said Tuesday night after the Angels announced they had agreed to place the 25-year-old slugger on the disabled list and pay him the remainder of an estimated $80,000 contract for the 1971 season.

Conigliaro abruptly quit the Angels last July 9, claiming deterioration in the vision in his left eye. At the time, he said he was walking out on the remainder of an $80,000 contract.

Auburn Boasts AP's College Back of Week

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Pat Sullivan's four touchdown passes against Georgia last Saturday vaulted the talented Auburn football quarterback into the same league with two fellows named Glenn Davis and Steve Ramsey.

Davis is the legendary Army back who was responsible for 71 touchdowns in a four-year cadet career. And Ramsey, whose name often escapes even the biggest football buffs, is a North Texas State star who tied the national touchdown responsibility mark during a three-year stint in the wilds of the Southwest.

Sullivan's four scoring strikes in the Tiger's 35-20 win over the previously unbeaten Bulldogs gave him 71 touchdowns, too. And he has one more game in which to try and make the record exclusively his own.

But it is that one game—not the record or his dazzling show against Georgia—which is uppermost in his mind. The Tigers play cross-state rival, Alabama in a game Nov. 27 that will decide the Southeastern Conference championship and give the winner a shot at a national crown.

"This is what we've been working for," Sullivan said, referring to the showdown of unbeaten in Birmingham.

Still, it is Sullivan's performance against Georgia that commands most of the talk around Auburn. The senior quarterback completed 14 of 24 passes for 248 yards, and at least two of the completions were made while Georgia defenders were hauling him to the ground.

And for his performance, Sullivan was named national college Back of the Week by The Associated Press.

His 34-year strike to Terry Beasley put the Tigers ahead 14-0 in the first quarter. And after the Bulldogs tied it, he found Dick Schmalz on a 15-yard touchdown pass which put the Tigers back in front 21-14.

Griese Named AP's Offensive Player of Week

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Don Shula "looked down the bench at Bob and I asked, 'You ready?' and Griese said, 'Yeah,' and from then on it was nothing but business."

When the Miami coach nodded, Griese, tired and hungry from a night in the hospital, trotted on the field and proceeded to give Pittsburgh the business.

The 26-year-old quarterback, shrugging off an intestinal disorder that had kept him out of virtually the entire first quarter, decimated the Steelers' pass defense and rallied the Dolphins from an 18-point deficit to a thrilling 24-21 victory Sunday.

His aerial heroics, completing nine of 14 passes for 232 yards, including touchdown strikes of 12, 86 and 60 yards to wide receiver Paul Warfield, earned Griese the nod today as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 6-foot-1, 180-pounder from Purdue, the Dolphins' No. 1 draft choice in 1967, edged out a pair of other quarterbacks, rookie sensation Jim Plunkett of the New England Patriots and Edd Hargett of the New Orleans Saints.

"Nothing was said about Bob's physical condition after he went in. It was apparent he was doing okay," Shula understated. "I think it gave everybody a tremendous lift. He and Paul teamed up like they've never teamed up before."

Griese said he began feeling ill Saturday and remained in bed all day but that, when matters didn't improve, he entered the hospital that night, receiving treatment and nourishment intravenously.

"Whatever was in that bottle they fed me last night did a hell of a job," he grinned after the victory, which boosted the Dolphins' record to 7-1-1 and kept them atop the American Conference East.

Plunkett, ignoring a pulled hamstring muscle suffered early in the game, came back to fire four touchdowns and finish the day with 218 aerial yards in leading the awakening Patriots to a 38-33 victory over the Buffalo Bills.

And Hargett, starting in place of rookie star Archie Manning, completed 13 of 21 passes for 225 yards including three touchdowns against the solid San Francisco defense, the final one coming with 57 seconds remaining in the game as the surprising Saints upset the 49ers 26-20.

ASC Election Ballots to Be Mailed Nov. 18 and Return by Dec. 1

It's now time for Hempstead County farmers to vote their choice for ASC community committeemen says Ralph Montgomery, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Ballots will go out in the mail November 18, and they must be properly voted and returned to the County ASCS Office by December 1, in order to be counted, he said.

Votes will be tabulated publicly by the County Committee at 9:00 a.m. in the County ASCS Office. Anyone regardless of race, color, creed, sex, or national origin may view the counting.

Each ASC community will vote its own slate of nominees. Following are the slate of nominees for the five community ASC committees: A-B Tom Lee Brint, Brooks Collins, Oliver Lloyd, C. P. Jones, B. V. Jester, Marion Morris; C-D Charles W. Key, Sr., Bill Schooley, Johnie Kramer, C. J. Rowe, H. D. Shirley, Leo Morrison; E-F-G Ira Flowers, Johnnie Thompson, Richard E. Lively, J. K. Porter, James Lively, Henry Applegate; H-I John C. Lloyd, Jim Faulkner, Roy B. Roberts, Carl Brown, Guy Loe, Lee Hendrix; J-K-L James Staggers, Moss Rowe, Martin Stanley, A. L. Ross, Clarence Sweat, H. E. Erwin.

Each farmer may vote for not more than three candidates in the ASC Election. He may select up to three of the candidates listed, or he may write in his choice on the lines provided at the bottom of the ballot.

In each of the five ASC communities in the County, three community committeemen and two alternates will be elected. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes becomes chairman; the second highest, vice chairman; third-high, regular member; and fourth and fifth highest becomes 1st and 2nd alternates who serve on the community committee if regular members are absent or if a permanent vacancy occurs. All election ties will be settled by lot.

ASC community committeemen are elected for one-year terms, to begin January 1. Mr. Montgomery said, "It's very important that farmers elect representatives and qualified farmer-neighbors for community committee posts. These community committeemen elect the County ASC Committee and choose its officers. They also help keep farmers in their communities informed on how individual farm operations will be affected by farm programs administered by the County ASC Committee. The major ASCS programs in Hempstead County are REAP, Cotton, Feed Grain and Price Support Programs.

Any farmer, tenant, or sharecropper, of legal voting age, may vote in the election if his farm is eligible to participate in any of the ASCS programs administered in his community. Others who may vote are: a minor who supervises or conducts the farming operation of an entire farm; a legal guardian who manages a farm for a child; and a person representing a legal entity such as a partnership or corporation.

Producers who have farm interests in more than one community may select the community in which to vote, but may vote in only one community in the County.

Ballots should be voted and then sealed inside the plain envelope. This envelope should then be placed inside the one addressed to the County Office. This procedure insures the secrecy of each vote. The certification on the election envelope must be signed and dated before being returned to the County Office. Voters who certify their ballots with an "X" for a signature must do so before a witness and obtain the signature of the witness in order for the ballot to be counted.

A list of known eligible voters is open for inspection at the County ASCS Office. Any person who believes he is an eligible voter but is not listed, or has not received a ballot in the mail within a few days after Nov. 19, should inquire at the County ASCS as soon as possible.

THOUGHTS

He who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will supply and multiply your resources and increase the harvest of your righteousness.—II Cor 9:10

Generosity during life is a very different thing from generosity in the hour of death. One proceeds from genuine liberality and benevolence, the other from pride or fear.—Horace Mann, educator

A good man and a wise man may, at times, be angry with the world, and at times be ever discontented with the world if he does his duty in it.—Robert Southey, poet

All the strength and force of man comes from his faith in things unseen. He who believes is strong. He who doubts is weak. Strong convictions precede great actions.—James E. Freeman, Clark, clergyman

LEGAL NOTICE

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY Given that in pursuance of the authority and directions contained in the decretal order of the Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas, made and entered on the 1st day of November, 1971, in a certain cause then pending therein wherein Mary Jo Stankavich was plaintiff and Edward J. Stankavich was defendant, case no. 9806, the undersigned, as Commissioner of said Court, will offer for sale, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the front door or entrance to the Court House in the City of Hope, in Hempstead County, Arkansas, within the hours for judicial sales, on Friday, the 3rd day of December, 1971, the following described lands in Hempstead County, Arkansas, to-wit:

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Who comprised the only U.S. presidential and vice-presidential team to be born in the same county?
A—William Henry Harrison and John Tyler, both born in Charles City County, Va.

Q—Do the tides keep time with the moon?
A—Yes. Successive tides occur, on the average, about 50 minutes later each day than they did on the previous day. This corresponds to the moon's average daily retardation, or its daily delay in rising.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Aurora Borealis, also called the Northern Lights, is a broad display of rather faint light in the northern skies at night. The World Almanac says that it is believed they are caused by sunspot activity which occasionally sends solar flares into the earth's upper atmosphere, where their impact excites the gases.

BLONDIE

Q—Who comprised the only U.S. presidential and vice-presidential team to be born in the same county?
A—William Henry Harrison and John Tyler, both born in Charles City County, Va.
Q—Do the tides keep time with the moon?
A—Yes. Successive tides occur, on the average, about 50 minutes later each day than they did on the previous day. This corresponds to the moon's average daily retardation, or its daily delay in rising.

Casualties Lowest in Six Years

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. battlefield deaths in Vietnam over the past five weeks have dropped to the lowest level in six years, and now are far out-paced by the number of GIs dying from accidents and disease.

Combat deaths have averaged only six a week since Oct. 9 compared to an average of 21 a week from what the Pentagon classifies as nonhostile causes. The biggest killer is aircraft accidents.

The collision of two U.S. helicopters Monday and the crash of another Sunday after mechanical failure, killed four GIs and wounded five others.

Last week's casualty toll, announced Thursday in Saigon, showed eight Americans killed in action. Nonhostile deaths numbered 33.

Although they exceed battlefield casualties, nonhostile deaths this year also have dropped to the lowest level in six years. The rate, which increased each year as the number of U.S. troops in Vietnam increased, has dropped each year as more and more troops were withdrawn.

This year, nonhostile deaths averaged 19 a week, compared to 35 in 1970 and a Vietnam war peak of 40 in 1969. In 1969 there were 543,400 Americans in the war zone; 188,000 remain today.

A Pentagon official said a certain number of nonhostile deaths is inevitable.

"There's not much you can do with aviation accidents," the official said. "The safety maintenance program is as effective as possible and every unit stresses safety."

Since the war began, 45,594 Americans have been killed in action.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Diabetes May Cause Impotence

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have been married for 15 years and have four lovely children and now, as a man of 41, I am having sexual problems. I seem to be impotent. My doctor prescribed medicine and even that doesn't help. I suggested to him hormone shots, but he says no. My wife is desperate and so am I. Any suggestions as to the cause? Also, I am a diabetic.

Dear Reader — Of course, you are desperate. That is a normal reaction. The "Also, I am a diabetic" is very important and is the most likely cause of your problem. Impotence in fairly young men is sometimes a complication of diabetes.

The normal reaction is dependent upon the proper function of the nervous system. Diabetes can and does cause damage to the function of nerves. The autonomic nervous system, automatically controls the functions of the body, such as the changes in the size of blood vessels, movements in the digestive tract and even sweating. It is formed by nerves coming out of the spinal cord. When certain nerves are affected the problem you have may occur.

The function of the testicles may be entirely normal, forming just as much male hormone as in other men. The problem is in the mechanics controlled by the nervous system. Normally, blood is trapped by closing off the normal outflow of blood through the veins. Closure of blood vessels to accomplish this is brought about by nerve reflexes.

Combined with the problem of impotency there may be changes in the pattern of sweating. Some areas of the body may no longer sweat.

Now, when impotency is caused by nerve involvement from diabetes, it definitely is not caused by a psychiatric problem. You might be sufficiently distressed to need a little help but the best hope is careful management of your diabetes. Hormones will not help either, in the form of pills or shots. I am sorry to say that even if the diabetes is well-managed this complication can still occur. So proper treatment is not a guaranteed cure for your difficulty.

I would like to suggest that you make a special effort to get yourself in top physical condition, eliminate any excess body fat you may have and avoid bad habits, such as cigarettes and alcohol. There is some evidence that individuals with diabetes who are in very good condition require less insulin and do better as long as they maintain good physical condition.

My answer may not be very encouraging to you—but there is hope and perhaps it will be of some help to just understand that diabetes can and does cause such problems.

ABC Votes to Seat Delegates to Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Baptist Convention voted unanimously Tuesday night to seat all delegates to the 118th annual meeting, which opened at the Second Baptist Church in Little Rock.

There had been speculation by some Baptist officials that opposition would develop to the seating of delegates from three churches.

Some delegates had been expected to oppose the seating of the First Baptist Church of Russellville, the First Baptist Church of Malvern and the First Baptist Church of Lake Village. The three churches have differed with the convention in past years because they practiced either open communion or open baptism. Russellville has not sent delegates to the convention in six years, Lake Village has not been represented in two years and Malvern did not send delegates last year.

Hurricane Seems to Be Fading

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical Storm Laura drifted on a circular course today after lashing western Cuba with heavy rains and winds up to 70 miles per hour.

Early today the big storm was centered some 170 miles southwest of Havana and 260 miles southwest of Key West, Fla.

The National Hurricane Center said Laura had dumped 14 inches of rain on Cuba's Isle of Pines in 24 hours.

The hurricane center said steering currents were weak, but indications were that Laura was making a loop and her ultimate course was in doubt.

Although her winds were just 5 m.p.h. below hurricane strength, weather forecasters said there was no indication Laura would increase in strength during the next 24 hours.

Gale warnings were discontinued at Key West and the Dry Tortugas today at 5 a.m. EDT.

The center said gales extended 150 miles north and 100 miles south of the storm.

The Graves Celebrate Their 40th Wedding Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Graves of North Sherman street, Hope, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday, November 7, 1971, with a family feast. Part of the third generation of the family was present: a daughter, Mrs. Christine Squires; grandchildren, Donnie Burns, Anglia, Ralph L., Ricardo Squires all of Hot Springs; great grandchildren, Tina Rena, Rochell Beene of Hope.

Others that were present: Mr. and Mrs. George Graves of Mineral Springs, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bradford of Nashville, George Squires of Hot Springs, Jay Fields of Wichita, Kansas, Mrs. Minnie Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Tidwell, Ray and Kay Torrence, George Hicks, Mrs. Narvell Hicks, all of Rosston, Ark., Mrs. Jumis Thompson, Mrs. Katie LaGrone, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Powell, Earnest Smith, Mrs. Menda Farris and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Lindsey and family, Mrs. Lizzie Cheatham, Mrs. Osie Johnson and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gauff, Mr. and Mrs. Ontee Douglas and Tina, Mrs. Jesse Bell Howson, Mrs. M.B. Mason, Mrs. H. Helen Chaich.

The Graves received many beautiful gifts and money. Prayer was offered by Elder Graves; remarks were given by Mrs. Inez Graves, in which she stated that, "the forty years seemed more like ten—there had been so much happiness in their lives—God is responsible for it all."

Cars Heroin Suspects Automatically

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a "cold hit." The customs inspector aboard the freighter took another, closer look at the Volkswagen camper and soon 96 pounds of pure heroin were discovered.

"We didn't have any information about a specific vehicle, or about that particular vehicle," explained a special agent of the Customs Bureau, "but we were concentrating on vehicles."

The ship had come from Le Havre, where the camper had been put aboard, and arrived in Port Elizabeth, N.J., on April 3. The smuggling of heroin, whether from Le Havre or Marseille or from Orly Airport, is usually the last step in the French role in the lucrative heroin traffic.

France plays a key role in obtaining the crude product and refining it into heroin. Most of the refining is done in clandestine laboratories in the Marseille area. "The reason it is Marseille," explains a Bureau of Narcotics agent assigned to the office there, "is that the criminal syndicates are dominated by Corsicans and this is where they have trafficked since World War II."

John T. Cusack, head of the Bureau of Narcotics office in Paris, has said Marseille remained a key processing center because "it is only 800 miles from the source and the traffickers do not want to extend their lines of communication."

Cusack was referring to the hilly region of Turkey where most of the opium poppy is grown. The opium gum is processed into morphine base in Turkey or in such a country as Lebanon. It comes into France as a morphine base, smuggled mainly by ship.

While the United States and France early this year came to a public commitment to put renewed pressure on heroin traffickers, Cusack privately indicated that the French could do a much better job if they had the will. He later said as much in a critical interview in a French magazine.

The "cold hit" in Port Elizabeth resulted in the indictment of a top ranking French intelligence officer. He is Col. Paul Fournier, a supervisory agent in the counterintelligence service.

More Social Security, No Tax Increase

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A politician's election-year dream—the possibility of higher Social Security benefits without the customary tax increase—was shimmering before Congress today.

It was evoked when Elliot Richardson, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, told newsmen Tuesday he favors a proposal to slow down the buildup of big Social Security trust funds from the yield of payroll taxes.

Such a change in actuarial accounting could sharply slow down the increases in Social Security taxes already programmed for future years, beginning in 1972, and due to be increased by pending legislation.

While Richardson didn't say so, it could defer a maximum $145.20 increase in the Social Security taxes withheld from workers' paychecks. That increase is provided in the House-passed bill for a 5-percent benefit hike next year. The Senate is expected at least to approve such an increase and is quite likely to raise it.

There were signs of resistance among fiscally conservative members of the House Ways and Means Committee who always have insisted on ample trust-fund provisions. But even some of the critics conceded the proposal's appeal might be irresistible to their colleagues.

Richardson told newsmen at the White House that he approved an advisory council's recommendation last spring that the Social Security accounting system be changed.

"We think the recommendation is sound and does make sense," Richardson said. White House spokesmen promptly cautioned newsmen that Richardson was speaking only for himself.

9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

1962 Chrysler

That should tell you a lot about the cars we sell.

Whether you own a big or small car, pay a little or a lot, the one thing you don't need from a car is trouble. You want a car that will hold up. A car that's built to last.

Well, we're with you. Just look at this figure:

9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

This includes all the various owners, any kind of terrain, and numbers of miles. But every Chrysler is designed and built the way you want it—to last. So even if you won't be keeping a car for years and years, it's good to know you've got all that quality going for you in your first year as well as in later years.

Newport Royal 2-Door Hardtop

You gotta have heart. The quality of a Chrysler starts deep down in the heart of the car. That's where you've gotta have it. That's where you get it. With such time- and road-proven features as Chrysler's torsion-bar suspension and Torque-Flite automatic transmission. The rigid strength of unibody construction. And a 7-step dip-and-spray anti-rust process. Extra care like that is why so many Chryslers stay in great shape.

Every Chrysler Imperial is road-tested at the factory.

If our cars aren't right, we don't want you to have them. For example, every Imperial is put through a road test at the factory that includes over 100 different checks before it reaches you.

This year every Chrysler car offers a new optional electronic ignition system that does away with the points and condenser that can wear out. This helps keep the engine tuned longer. And a tuned engine means cleaner exhaust.

From our lowest-priced Chrysler Royal to our big, luxurious Imperial, Chrysler cars are built to last. The same is true of every Chrysler-engineered car we sell—Valiant, Duster, Cricket, Satellite and Fury.

We think that's the kind of car America wants. That's the kind of car we'd like to show you. Come see us today.

Toys, Fashions Stimulate Child's Curiosity

A vigil for Santa is enhanced by the comfort from one's Pooch Bear... and the cozy, warm quilted robe and dainty gown from Winnie-the-Pooh's Collection at Sears. Nightwear—pretty enough for picture-taking on Christmas morning—is adorned in lilac flowers and delicate lace. Practical, too, this children's gown and robe in sizes 3 to 6X is completely machine washable.

Monsieur Cou Cou, the bird; Havenmeyer the Helping Hand; Ole Factory, a bloodhound; and even Nostalgia, the elephant were all on deck as ABC-TV embarked on a new children's series, Curiosity Shop. The show, which premiered on September 12, will be aired every Saturday morning from 10 to 12.

Curiosity Shop was created by Chuck Jones, Executive Director and Vice President of Children's Programming for ABC. It combines animation, film, live action and music. To quote Mr. Jones: "The title is the key to the premise of the series. 'We want to stimulate the child's natural curiosity by placing emphasis on asking questions more than answering them. The idea is to involve the child in explorations that stimulate his understanding of himself and the world around him.'"

Your curiosity seeker will delight at Monsieur Cou Cou, happily appliqued on an amethyst colored A-shape for the 3 6x'er and on a knicker set for the toddler. Nostalgia, the elephant becomes a pinafore pocket. Professor Trivia, "worms" his way across a striped smock.

Then there's Havenmeyer, the Helping Hand, reaching upwards in stripes of red and white on a suspended jumper or jumpsuit, or Ole Factory, the bloodhound, transformed into a chain shoulder bag, all for the 1 6x'er. For the 7-14 set, Monsieur Cou Cou dangles from a novelty belt worn with a grown-up navy and white dress, or Onomontopoeis dancing from the midriff of a skirt 'n shirt look.

The collection is colored in bright, festive, Holiday shades of red, navy, turquoise and amethyst, or pretty pastels such as light blue and pale green. Fabrics run the gamut from bonded acrylics and bonded knits to corduroys, poplins and "STOP THE PRESS" which means no ironing. Silhouettes include battle jackets, pinafores over dresses, quilted dirndls and A-shapes, blazer pantsuits, and short pants.

This season Cinderella, the childrenswear manufacturer who knows what little girls like, has created an irresistible collection of holiday looks inspired by these characters.

It's later than you think. Take a look at your calendar.

Puppet characters from Curiosity Shop, ABC-TV's new children's series, serve as a springboard for a group of lively fashions for children from the Cinderella and Nannette Holiday Collections. The A-shaped dresses in bonded acrylic knit feature shoulder strap bags of "Ole Factory," the lovable bloodhound. Little sister sports "Ole Factory" print on her leotards, while little brother likes man's best friend on his shirt, under his acrylic jumpsuit, with an "Ole Factory" pocket.

Havenmeyer, the Helping Hand, a Curiosity Shop character, inspired by ABC-TV's new television show, points upward on a red bonded acrylic knit jumpsuit from Nannette by Nannette and jumper-like dress by Cinderella. Each topped off with a red and white striped shirt.

Anti-Pollution Drive Reaches Junior Set

Citizen involvement may be the key to the success of the ecology movement, but no one has yet aimed at quite the population segment that the Pollution Test Kit is expected to reach.

The consumers who will use the new scientific "toy" to be marketed this fall are 8 to 14 years old. And a large part of the idea behind the Pollution Test Kit is to encourage these junior ecologists to report the violations they find to government officials.

"It's easy to pass legislation," writes William J. Beecher, director of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, in the kit's instruction booklet. "Our nation has anti-pollution laws; so does almost every state, city and village."

"At this moment in history, however, these laws are basically ineffective because there are far more violators than there are people to stop them. In addition to strict laws and strict enforcement, vigilant citizens are needed to help seek out the offenders—the polluters of our air and water and soil."

The kit contains dilute chemicals that must be mixed and labeled by the user, test tubes, corks, straws, magnifying glass, funnel, water-soluble paper, smoke chart, universal indicator for checking acidity of water, and several special utensils.

Detailed instructions are provided for more than 100 hours of experiments, including testing air for particles, dust, acidities, sulfur dioxide, carbon monoxide and ozone; testing water for phosphates and to determine acidity and alkalinity; and testing soil for acidity, alkalinity and organisms.

The kit, which is available through the Sears Christmas Catalog, was tested in the Sears Merchandise Development and Testing Laboratory and in a private laboratory.

Youngsters are encouraged to take their results to school and to consult their parents for suggestions of testing areas. They are urged to help improve their homes and communities—to take an interest in things familiar to them.

"It is important that the new generation be aware of the natural environment as a part of general education, as a part of the way we live," Dr. Beecher writes. "It is from people that the pressure will come which will influence civic and industrial leaders to give us a world in which we can live happily in good health."

WRAPPING ADDS IMPACT

Half the fun of receiving gifts when you're a child is tearing into gaily wrapped packages. No matter how small the gift, colorful paper adds excitement.

Technology Opens Way for Parents To Help Young Dance to Own Music

In Christmases past, sugarplums were the visions dancing in children's heads.

The youngster of the Soaring Seventies has other ideas. Surrounded by the products of an advanced technology, visions of sugarplums rapidly disappear and the youngsters want to dance to their own music.

Modern technology makes it possible for today's parents to give a gift which will provide enjoyment long after dolls are put away and roller skates exchanged for college textbooks. Most recent outstanding examples of products in this category are, phonographs, small TV sets and radios.

According to Zenith Radio Corporation, these products are welcome gifts for youth of all ages and their parents because of flexibility in the various models' size, price and use. Some models are tailored specifically for the young. They are attractive to budget-minded parents because of their relatively low cost for long-term use by young people—parents, too.

New table model radio designs are sure to delight a youngster on Christmas morning. The Prelude AM radio features a big clock face—nearly three-fourths of the area of the cabinet front—which makes it easy to see or even help learn to tell time.

Or what better gift than a portable phonograph with FM/AM radio included? The latest Steppenwolf or Grateful Dead record, wrapped up with this new Triad phonograph, is sure to please on Christmas morning.

A gift which spans all ages is the portable television set. Keen interest in sports in elementary and high school broadens to include news documentaries and special programs in college, and a personal television set insures that important programs will not be missed.

Cassette Decks Fit Smoothly Into Plans

For the music lover who "has everything," a stereo cassette deck could be the perfect gift this Christmas season.

Cassette recorder/players, the newest format for playing recorded music, are rapidly gaining the respect of serious high-fidelity fans. Recent technical improvements in equipment and tape make the sound quality of cassette recorder/players every bit as good as the sound from traditional hi-fi equipment.

The nice thing about the new cassette decks is that they fit smoothly into existing stereo systems. Cassette decks such as the new Ampex Micro 155 complement the phonographs and reel-to-reel tape machines which are the heart of stereo systems.

Start Music Center They can be easily hooked into existing speakers and amplifiers to provide another source of listening pleasure.

For the beginning hi-fi buff, cassette decks and systems are a convenient way to start a home music center. For families, an easy to operate deck is a convenient way for kids to make use of Dad's stereo system, without risk to more sensitive components.

Cassettes are tiny reels of magnetic tape encased in slim plastic containers that merely slip into the recorder and start with the push of a button. Introduced in the U.S. in the mid-1960's, cassette recorders have become the most popular format among tape recorder purchasers.

The main reasons, according to Ampex, a leading supplier of cassette equipment and tape: Cassette recorders are more compact and easier to use than reel-to-reel recorders and more convenient because of portability and the ability to record than phonographs.

Something for Everyone Because of the soaring popularity of cassette recorders, there is a wide selection of recorded music available in the cassette format—from classical to hard rock. And blank cassettes are handy for do-it-yourself voice and music recordings.

Bake for the Coming Holidays

Christmas cookies, gaily wrapped as gifts, owe their origin to the ancient Roman Empire where it was the custom to give confections to Roman senators as part of the new year celebrations.

During the early years of Christianity, cookies baked at yule time contained a mixture of many spices. It was said that these spices were symbolic of the offerings brought to the infant Jesus by the Wise Men. As the custom of giving sweets spread around the world, homemakers developed their own special recipes using native spices and ingredients.

Delectable cookies, along with fruit and toys, soon became traditional gifts for children. With the advent of the decorated Christmas tree, baked confections appeared as taste-tantalizing tree ornaments which youngsters munched on.

Today, it is the grownups who delight in receiving gifts of delicious Christmas cookies. A beautiful box, delicate glass jar or decorated basket of home-baked sweets is one of the most warmly appreciated gifts you can give to family or friends.

The thought and effort involved in the giving of something you have made conveys a very personal message of friendship and holiday cheer.

Home economists for Tootsie Roll have developed some tempting new recipe ideas to please the most discriminating cookie lovers. When packed in an unusual container that has been trimmed with bits of ribbon and holly, Crispy Holiday Fruit Bars and Vanilla Sugar Stars become a special gift you'll be proud to give.

CRISPY HOLIDAY FRUIT BARS

- 1/2 stick (1/4 cup) butter
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows
- 1 cup Tootsie Rolls cut in 1/2-inch pieces
- 1 cup mixed candied fruits
- 8 cups crisp rice cereal
- 1/2 cup candied cherries
- 1 cup candied pineapple pieces

Melt butter and Tootsie Roll pieces in 3-quart sauce pan, stirring constantly. Add marshmallows and continue stirring until melted and syrupy. Stir in crisp rice cereal and the one cup mixed candied fruits. Toss until thoroughly coated. Press mixture into a well-buttered 13 x 11 inch pan. Chill until firm.

Freshly baked cookies packed in decorated baskets, boxes or apothecary jars are taste-tempting holiday gifts for family or friends.

Cut into squares. Lift out of pan with spatula. Decorate each square with a poinsettia design using candied cherry for the flower center and candied pineapple pieces as petals. Yield: 24 to 30 bars.

VANILLA SUGAR STARS

- 1 standard recipe for rolled vanilla sugar cookies OR 1 package of refrigerated dough sugar cookies
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 3 large Tootsie Rolls (1 1/2-ounce size cut in 1/2-inch pieces)
- 3 to 3 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Prepare cookie dough and cut with star cutters. Bake according to your recipe or package directions. Let cool on baking sheet, then remove to wire rack to cool thoroughly.

In a two-quart sauce pan, melt Tootsie Rolls with milk and butter until smooth, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and gradually beat in confectioners' sugar until icing is stiff enough to be forced through a pastry bag and hold its shape.

Use only enough sugar to get a stiff consistency. Using a pastry bag with icing points, decorate cookies with rosettes. Yield: 1 1/2 cups frosting, enough to decorate 4 dozen Vanilla Sugar Stars.

One Tradition that Doesn't Change Calls For Gifts of Diamond Under the Mistletoe

Traditions may be changing, but receiving a diamond engagement ring at Christmas is as popular as ever. In fact, more girls get their diamond during the mistletoe season than at any other time of year.

To many girls, however, their diamond is no surprise. A recent survey by the Diamond Information Center revealed that 42% of engaged couples select the diamond ring together.

If a diamond is on your Christmas list, choose it carefully. Start with a visit to a reputable jeweler. Let him explain the differences in carat, color, clarity and cut which determine the price of each stone.

The carat is the acceptable standard of weight for diamonds. The word comes from the Oriental carob seeds which were once used to balance the scales in bazaars.

Each carat consists of 100 points. Thus, if a diamond is 50 points, the average size for engagement rings, it weighs half a carat.

Nature's Way

There are more small diamonds in nature than large ones; and as with everything else, rarity increases value. Thus, a two-carat diamond may cost three times as much as a one-carat stone of the same quality.

The color of a diamond may be any color of the spectrum. But most diamonds are white with a tinge of warm body color. Pure white and blue-white diamonds are very rare and priced accordingly.

Because diamonds reflect the colors around them, the best way to see the true color of a stone is to look at it sideways, through its thickest part, against a white background.

Clearly refers to the diamond's freedom from carbon spots, bubbles or other natural imperfections. A diamond is considered flawless only if it shows no imperfections to an expert using ten-power magnification.

Most diamonds contain natural impurities, since they are a product of Nature. If the impurity cannot be seen by the naked eye, it will not affect the beauty of a diamond, but will lower its price.

Cut has to do with the exact arrangement of a diamond's 58 facets, the little planes that catch the light and make a diamond sparkle.

Cut Means Shape

The cut also means the diamond's shape. The most popular shapes for engagement rings are: the round brilliant, the boat-shaped marquise, the emerald cut, the pear, the heart and the oval.

The more you know about a diamond, the more you'll enjoy the one you buy this Christmas. For no matter what its size or price, each diamond is a work of art, nature's original.

Electric Magic Furnishes Aids She'll Welcome

Mirror, mirror on the wall, what's the perfect gift for the fairest Mom of all? Beauty aid gifts, of course!

And, if there's a special lady on your list who enjoys pampering herself, there's a big selection of ideas for her vanity and boudoir.

Tip-toe electric beauty wizards give Mom the comfort and luxury of professional salon care right in the privacy of her own bedroom.

Electric rollers are sure to go straight to Mom's head. A ten minute set is all it takes to hold even the fanciest hairdos.

Just watch Mom glow when she unwraps her electric facial sauna! Even the busiest homemakers find time in a hectic schedule for a weekly treatment that purifies the skin with a soft mist for a complete facial cleansing.

Lighted mirrors help Mom master the art of making herself up for day, evening or office.

Various lighting effects show exactly how to achieve the right look from dim candle light to fluorescent overhead lights.

For a professional manicure or pedicure, Mom can clip and shape with an electric set complete with different attachments for cuticle and nail care.

Shavers with special shaping are another grooming idea. Many come with settings to adjust for legs and underarms.

Hair dryers come in the minitest tote-about-to hooded models that fit over large rollers.

The heat is evenly circulated for uniform, fast drying time.

Small blower dryers are ideal for Moms with short, wispy curls since they make styling easy while the hair is drying.

And to top off her beauty plan, every Mom deserves a balanced diet of wigs!

Special Gifts Deserve Distinctive Wrappings, Careful Handling

If that special girl on your gift list is going to receive a diamond or other piece of jewelry be sure that the wrapping is just as special.

Velvet ribbons flowing over textured wrapping paper—color coordinated—is one way to let her know something important is inside.

Another suggestion is to use embroidered fabric as the wrapping and tie with colorful ribbon.

Because the ring jewelry box is probably small in size it's a good idea to place the gift box inside a larger one, being sure to secure the present with insulation.

JEWELRY ORNAMENTS

Old jewelry such as gold chains, earrings, pins are ideal decorations for make-it-yourself Christmas ornaments. Plastic foam balls, covered with paper or material can be decorated with the jewelry.

How to Make Colorful Yule Fruit Bowl for Your Table

Handmade fruits of bright-colored yarn are never out-of-season. Let a Christmas Fruit Bowl bring sunshine to your holiday table.

The Norcross Design Studio created the fruits in the photograph from their Designer Yarn and plastic foam balls. Instructions for making them are given below and in a booklet called "Decorate with Gift Wraps, Vol. 2."

The booklet, filled with dozens of inexpensive ideas for Christmas decorations and gifts, is available wherever gift wraps are sold, or send 50 cents to "Decorate with Gift Wraps," 14 Main Street, Park Ridge, Illinois 60068.

CHRISTMAS FRUIT BOWL

Materials: Foam balls in various sizes, pipe cleaners, Norcross gold Lustre-Cord, white glue, Norcross Designer Yarns: one card each of orange for (A) Orange, yellow for two (B) Lemons, red for (C) Apple, yellow for (D) Pear, pink for several (E) Cherries, pink for four (F) Strawberries. Small piece of black Lustre-Tie. Two cards yellow Designer Yarn for (G) Pineapple. One spool gold Lustre-Cord. Pins. One card green Designer Yarn for Leaves on (A) and (G).

DIRECTIONS

For fruits that require other than a round ball, shape the foam by rolling it, while pressing very hard against it with your hand on a flat, firm surface. To flatten one side of a ball, press and rub it on such a surface. Pear shape is made by flattening the end of two balls (one slightly smaller than the other) and glue flattened ends together as shown. All fruits are covered with a continuous spiral of Designer Yarn fastened to foam with white glue. Always wind yarn from bottom to top.

To Make Stems: Remove inner string from Lustre-Cord and insert pipe cleaners. Use 3" lengths of each for C, orange, Lemon, Pear and Apple. Use 2" lengths for Strawberries. Push one end of stem into fruit and glue in place. Bend back 1/2" at top. For Cherries, remove string from 7" length of gold Lustre-Cord. Fold in half. Tie 1/2" down from fold with thread. Glue ends to Cherries.

To Make Leaves: For Orange, Lemon, Pear, Apple and Cherries, cut 3" length of green yarn. Form loop. Twist and glue ends together. Glue one to base of Orange, Lemon and Pear stems. Glue two loops together to base of Apple stem. For Strawberries, instead of a leaf, make a flat fluff of green yarn by tying two 1" lengths of yarn together in the center and fluffing the yarn with a pin. Cut tiny squares of black Lustre-Tie. Glue to Strawberry as illustrated.

Pineapple: Shape and cover with yellow yarn as previously described. Pin gold Lustre-Cord around fruit in diagonal pattern as illustrated.

To Make Leaves for Pineapple: Wind green yarn around 12 pipe cleaners. Bend each one in half and tie ends together. Insert ends into top of fruit. Bend leaves to realistic shapes.

Stretching from waist to toe, and enclosing the foot in a neeled shoe, Pan-T-Boot is a whole new way of dressing. Pan-T-Boot is handwashable down to the shoe portion, and the shoe can be sponged clean.

Fashions Offer Santas Wide Choice of Gifts

Leather Moves into Style Leadership Position with Wearing Apparel, Accessories Out Front

Fashion has elevated leather to a leadership position this year among materials preferred by designers of wearing apparel and accessories for men as well as women.

Popular acceptance of the trend bathes things made of leathers in the colorful rays of a Christmas Gift Giving Spotlight.

When Mrs. Christine Wallace, fashion coordinator for the Leather Industries of America, was asked to supply a list of things made of leather for Christmas gifting, she said, "Santa's pack is poppin' with great gifts made of American leathers in at least half a dozen different areas."

LEATHER APPAREL

"There's a super-star in Santa's galaxy of gifts, and it's lush leather apparel. Leather coats, jackets and separates for both women and men are more popular than ever, and come elegant or casual in appearance."

"Many ladies on your list may need a new coat or jacket — at $100 to $150, you'll find plenty of leather coats and jackets in the store."

Most are shaped, belted and some unbelted. Details include hardware for trim, stitching, novelty cutouts and zip-out linings.

MEN LIKE LEATHER

Most men like their leather best in sportswear. So if he's on your list, give him a leather jacket, sportcoat or set of separates in suede, grained, antiqued or split cowhide leather.

Among leather jackets rating the biggest fanfare have been parkas and safari with their neat pocket treatment, self-leather belts and stitching. Traditional sports jackets also make a hit in lambskin suede or grained leather.

"For a different look, there are muscular shearling-lined aviator's jackets and great coats in suede, grained and antiqued leathers.

LEATHER BAGS

"A leather handbag for Christmas holds the key to a happy holiday, says Leather Industries of America. Big bag or small, satchel or envelope, black, brown or a burst of color — you can give it to her in leather that will hold up under heaviest wear."

"Textures include grained, smooth, waxy, suede, brushed, embossed and patent leathers. Be sure you're giving her real leather; look for the black-and-gold 'Genuine American Leather' tag."

"The leather shoulder-strap bag is a swinger which fits handily into most women's lives. Among fashion details to note are adjustable straps, deep vertical shapes, leather combinations, stitching.

LEATHER SLIPPERS

"A Christmas gift everyone finds easy to take is leather slippers, year-round tranquilizers for the feet. In soft American leathers and many styles, slippers are ready to provide the family with good-looking footwear for relaxation."

"Women's slippers can double with loungewear as well as sleepwear. To team with at-home costumes, there are stunning leather mules, sandals or wedgies. For casual attire, she'll like 'moccasin' leather slippers, demi-boot types, or brass-trimmed slippers, many with shearling linings.

BELTS A CINCH

With belts in the limelight as never before, it's a cinch anyone on your list will have a 'Merry Christmas' with a leather belt.

For a favorite man, your choice may be dressy or casual. Many leathers are represented in men's belt collections, ranging from rugged harness bridle heavy-grained, waxy and brushed leathers to dressier smooth, light-grained, suede, embossed and patent leathers.

"Wider widths still prevail. Leather belts for business and dress show off gold or silver buckles in many shapes, and for the latest look, a self-leather buckle is smart."

"A leather belt is also feminine fashion's 'in' accessory. Wide or narrow, leather belts will have a great 'now' air. They're in a range of leathers and bedecked with hardware, fringe, wooden beads, and closings that buckle, hook or tie."

TRAVELER'S DELIGHT

"The ultimate gift for the constant traveler is elegant leather luggage. Maxiest present of all, leather luggage — one piece or a set — will please for its looks, durability and aura of status."

"Luggage comes in a full selection of shapes, colors and finishes, with leather tanned to a toughness which permits it to travel without showing signs of wear."

Piggybank Budgets

Children searching for holiday gifts to please Mom can probably find something just right at local beauty counters. Piggy-bank budgets can afford many of the simple — but important — beauty items Mom needs every day. Suggestions might include: emery boards, cotton balls, facial tissues. Children-wrapped, these presents are part of the treasures of Christmas.

TODAY'S SANTA

Modern Santas are becoming quite conscious about today's fast changing fashion scene. This interest opens up a vast area for gift suggestions. Topping many lists are accessories: Belts, jewelry, and gloves are just a few gift ideas for today's new man.

STOCKING STUFFER

Extra transistor radio batteries could find their way to the toe of the stocking and make a music-lover happy.

Camping Dad Now Joined By Family

Every year, more and more camping equipment is being placed under the family Christmas tree. And people aren't waiting until spring to use their gifts, because winter camping is growing tremendously as a family-style recreation.

A few years ago, cold-weather camping was usually reserved for men. It was "roughing it" in the purest sense. Now, women and children are joining in on the winter fun... and enjoying it fully.

According to Murray Crowder, noted outdoor writer and a member of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Sports Advisory Staff, "winter camping is now snowballing in popularity just as summer camping did 10 years ago."

The main reason, explained Crowder, is the advent of new, vastly improved tents, sleeping bags, and outdoor clothing. For instance, modern tents are lightweight, wind-proof and constructed of nylon or similar man-made fibers. In addition, attractive designs and bright colors appeal to the feminine tastes.

Today's sleeping bags are neither bulky nor heavy and provide great warmth. Modern bags, made of synthetic fibers, are non-allergenic and heat-retaining. In many cases, they are nearly equal to pure goose down and much less expensive.

"The new Catalytic heaters are also a big boon to winter camping," he added. "They're completely safe, portable and will keep any tent interior warm and comfortable."

This Christmas give her something she will proudly carry with her around the clock or around the world: long-lasting Chantilly Solid Perfume which will never spill or leak in her purse or luggage. Solid Perfume, in this case of golden splendor, will shake her world this holiday season. $7.50.

But, according to Crowder, other factors are also contributing to the popularity of winter camping. Snowmobiling and skiing are luring campers outdoors during the winter. In fact, a growing number of franchise campgrounds are staying open through the snowy months for snowmobile campers. And their business is brisk.

"Above all else, winter camping provides uncrowded campgrounds, scenic beauty and a sense of freedom," Crowder added.

Being Thrifty - Create Gifts from Terry Cloth

These days when Christmas gift giving strains the budgets of most, it pays to be thrifty and "do your own thing" at home. For what we have in mind, you don't need to use a sewing machine, just a minimum of dexterity with a needle.

And, guess what, you'll be using terry cloth towels in bright colors and prints, already hemmed and sometimes fringed.

The patterns and instructions for the gift items illustrated in a booklet, "Fun and Easy Terry Ideas" are deliberately easy to follow, and patterns clearly sketched. In many cases, you don't even need scissors because all you do is fold.

WestPoint Pepperell have gathered together some gift ideas for all ages and for all occasions. These happy toys, glamorous decorative accessories and high fashion items are useful for all happy holidays.

Chances are you couldn't buy terry cloth by the yard in these prints, and that's why we are suggesting that you use our great looking Martex® and Lady Pepperell® brands for these gift items. Many stores carry one or the other.

All designs in the pages of the booklet were done exclusively for WestPoint Pepperell by Annie Hayum. Sewing supply stores can sell you whatever trimmings are suggested. To obtain the booklet free of charge, just write to: Corporate Product News & Information Department, WestPoint Pepperell, 111 W. 40th Street, New York, N.Y. 10018.

Gift of Better Hearing

The sounds of Christmas can come alive for those hard of hearing. The jewel-like hearing aid above is only one of many styles available for holiday giving. The long play recording, "Getting Through," available free from Zenith hearing aid dealers, helps the layman better understand hearing problems.

Helping Others Hear Gives Special Cheer

Give the gift of better communications to a friend or a member of your family this Christmas and learn more about the subject of hearing loss at the same time.

Hearing aid manufacturers today offer a considerable amount of educational material, in addition to a great range of modern hearing aids for every type of hearing problem.

According to Zenith, the tiny hearing aid pictured here is illustrative of modern designs for effective, comfortable listening. The same manufacturer also produces 20 other models in conventional, behind-the-ear, and eye glass designs for a variety of hearing problems.

A most recent example of more complete education on hearing problems for the layman is represented by a new long play recording, "Getting Through," available free from Zenith hearing aid dealers.

The record, first of its kind, covers basic facts about hearing problems, and simulates electronically what might be heard by persons with various types of hearing problems, with or without aid.

SNAPPY IDEA

Thank You Gifts From Oven Warm Holiday Visits

Holiday time is chock full of visits to friends' homes for fireside chats, parties and dinner.

A full social schedule means a full list of bread-and-butter gifts as special thanks for holiday hospitality.

There's a simple solution to the question of what to bring the hostess. And, the gift-giving gets the youngsters into the act, too.

It all starts in the kitchen with an easy-to-follow recipe, Christmas cookie cutters, food coloring and candy trimmings.

Once the batter is ready, the kids have their chance to cut out their favorite cookie shapes.

After the aroma of freshly baked cookies fills the house, the youngsters set up for the next step while the cookies cool.

When the cookies have cooled, the children start decorating the treats with candy sprinkles, gum drops and other sweet toppings.

Sugar icing can be made, with a few drops of coloring mixed in, for glazing the cookies.

The cookie gift tins are then covered with gay wrapping paper or coloring creations prepared in advance.

"The Store That Has Time For You"

Christmas Stocking Idea

Make this Christmas a "sock it to 'em" good time. Yule time stockings and Christmas are practically synonymous. The tradition of filling stockings during this most festive time of year is really only three centuries younger than Christmas itself.

Over the 16 or so centuries which have passed since Saint Nicholas began the practice for all the good little boys and girls who lived in Asia Minor, filling stockings — hung by the chimney with care — has evolved into a world-wide Christmas Eve ritual.

In many families, each member, in addition to larger gifts that are piled under the tree, also selects a smaller "stocking gift" for the others. Sometimes, all the names are written on paper, individually folded and "secretly" drawn and each family member has a chance to play Santa for another member of the family.

One advantage of stocking filling is that small, inexpensive gifts can be exchanged. Many stores provide ready-filled versions for Santas who have extra-rushed gift lists.

Another advantage of the Christmas stocking is that everyone can get one. Mom, Dad, Sis, Junior and even the family pet can share in the fun. Many pet stores and departments have special stockings containing toys, treats and other "gifts."

Some stores feature monogrammed, bright red stockings with gay ornaments, but Mom or Sis might want to make their own creations for the family.

Christmas shopping? Smart Santas can steam away difficult gift problems with a new appliance that whisks away wrinkles. Great for stay-at-homes and ideal for travelers too. The STEAM-ALL from Remington.

Watchful Eye on Your Newspaper Can Help Plan Holiday Activities

With a little inventiveness and a watchful eye on the newspapers, parents can plan a variety of family activities geared to the youngsters for the holidays.

Schedules of Christmas plays, movies and community parties are listed routinely in newspapers, church bulletins and PTA newsletters.

Some civic organizations and service clubs sponsor grab-bag parties, Christmas pageants and carol groups.

Visits to a favorite department store's Toyland can be fun outings. The kids have a chance to sit on Santa's lap, and browse through a wonderland of games and toys.

Neighborhoods frequently organize activities according to age group.

While the tots have a session with Santa, the older children might be making hand puppets and staging a puppet show. Teens often visit children's hospital wards to sing carols and distribute homemade cookies.

And, to get all the age groups together, a snowman contest can be arranged. The children can be given a certain time period in which to build and decorate a prize-winning Frosty.

Flattering New Leg Fashions Lure Gift Buyers to Hosiery Counters

"The easiest way for puzzled Santas to solve the gift problem for any female from 10 up is to visit the hosiery department," advises Betty Curry, Burlington fashion director.

"The lively leg is the center of fashion action and there's a record crop of flattering new leg fashions sure to delight even the lady who has almost everything."

Stand-outs are fabulously flattering patterned panty hose—the Come-Ons by Burlington, including Crown Diamond, a delicately etched diamond pattern topped by crowns; Stained Glass, a lacy mosaic pattern and the Dandy with contrasting stripes—all sheer to the waist to insure a flattering view no matter how liberated legs may be.

Another flattering gift choice is Brief Top, with the tiniest bit of panty. All sheer and sandal foot panty hose are elegant gifts for party goers. And there's a new sheer support panty hose, achieving more support and sheerness simultaneously, that's a delight for ladies on their feet all day long.

SHIN SHAMS

A great new gift inspiration for Santas are Shin-Shams, a feather-light stretch leg fashion by Burlington's First Editions that looks like fine crinkled leather, has a stretch nylon foot that breathes and fits neatly into shoes, leaving shoe ornamentation to give the effect of a fabulously expensive custom boot.

Shin-Shams come in a variety of styles and colors—all so lightweight and flexible, they tuck away in a handbag.

Brief Top panty hose in a rain-bow range of colors, by Burlington, make the perfect gift for any female on the Christmas list, even the mythical lady who has "everything." This flattering style by Burlington is designed to insure an elegant view, no matter how liberated legs may be.

Note to Santas — A sure way to captivate all the belles on your Christmas list is to gift them with wardrobes of Shin-Shams by Burlington's First Editions, which transform every shoe into a custom boot instantly and are so light and flexible that they fold neatly away in a corner of a purse.

Key To A Merrier Family Christmas

If you're seeking a key to a Merry Christmas, you might just find one — literally.

A key can be an excellent gimmick for adding fun and suspense to Christmas festivities.

The locked closet game is a good example:

Select a convenient closet that can be locked with a key. Pile inside a collection of gaily-wrapped small gifts, the all-purpose kind that are suited to all ages and sexes — a deck of cards, perhaps, or a colorful poster, or desk accessories.

When family and friends are assembled, have them draw lots to determine who gets the first chance to use the key and choose a gift — blindfolded!

Allow only 30 seconds after the blindfold is on for the player to open the closet and grab a gift. If he muffs it, move on to another.

The game gains momentum and gaiety as successful players open the packages they have selected. Those who fail get a chance to choose from remaining gifts at the end.

Instant Eye Artistry

Instant eye artistry is hers when you give a Six-Color Shadow Kit from Cover Girl Eyes — neat little cases with a whole wardrobe of shadows and highlighters keyed to individual eye color.

Blend Joy, Silence Into Kitchen Gift

Noise should be restricted to the Fourth of July and New Year's Eve. It certainly doesn't belong to Christmas. And, neither do noise-making presents.

This Christmas give a gift that's almost as silent as the snow over which Santa's sleigh slides. Such a gift is the new Whisper Drive Blender by Ronson. This decorator designed appliance innovation reduces considerably the bothersome howl and yowl associated with other blenders.

Its muscle, 1/4-horsepower, is shrouded in silence by means of a direct drive from its newly developed permanent magnet motor. Gear free, with solid state controls, the Whisper Drive Blender by Ronson delivers stall-free blending action throughout its entire speed range.

The versatility of this Christmas gift will be appreciated for years to come by those lucky enough to find one under their tree on Christmas morning.

It will be a silent night when Mom uses her new blender designed to reduce considerably howl noises. Shown, the Whisper Drive Blender.

Some Reach Back To Grandma For Young Doll Ideas

Every kid knows it's bad planning to have your birthday at Christmas. Combining two occasions cuts down on the presents!

Gramma, however, doesn't mind in the least. She'll be one year old this Christmas, and for her birthday, she's getting a wardrobe and a companion.

The companion is Grampa — rosy cheeked and bespectacled like Gramma, and dressed in blue jeans and flowered suspenders to match the mood of Gramma's calico dresses and pantaloons. Grampa, like Gramma, is a rag doll. He stands 16 inches high.

The Gramma collection, designed by artist Joyce Miller of Detroit, is an attempt to provide children with a comfortable, reassuring playmate who will make no demands and offer no gimmicks.

Enjoy Being Child

Children should be stimulated, Miss Miller believes, but not frustrated and not forced to grow up too soon. She thinks they are overstimulated nowadays, due largely to high-pressure television and the fast pace of modern life.

Miss Miller, a former furniture designer and now a free-lance advertising woman, always felt a need for Gramma because she had no grandmother of her own. As a child, she "adopted" little old ladies in her home town. Later, for her own three children, she turned her home—a 50-year-old ex-stable that sits on 25 wooded acres—into the kind of comfortable, simple place that Gramma typifies. The house is full of animals, flowers, art work, auto engines — whatever the family is interested in.

Born in Rochester, Mich., and educated at Eastern Michigan University and the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit, Miss Miller happened onto the idea for Gramma while sketching furniture designs. She drew a child-sized rocking chair, and soon Gramma's happy face was looking at her from the back of the chair. That was "Gramma's Lap."

The other new item in the collection is an addition to the 16-inch Gramma's closet: a nightgown and a dress, old-fashioned but brightly colored to fit in with Gramma's 1970 clothes.

And all the original Gramma items will be back in Sears stores and the Sears Christmas Catalog this year: Gramma's Lap (a rocking chair), Gramma's Nap (a cradle), Gramma's House (a doll house), Gramma's Sewing Set, Gramma's Tea Set, Joe Dog and three sizes of Grammas, including one that talks.

Nostalgic Gramma Even children whose grandmothers wear "hot pants" understand Gramma and know instinctively who she is and what she means. Miss Miller said, Gramma is a mood and a feeling, not merely a toy.

Gramma—and now Grampa, too—is meant to let children be children.

Gift certificates are always perfect for the "not sure what to get anybody." It does away with the burden of more holiday shopping.

Like Gramma, Grampa loves flowers, children and sunshine. Especially all at the same time. Grampa is available exclusively through the Sears Christmas catalog and in many Sears stores.

Santa's Tasty Reindeer Now Making Local Stops

Call him Rudolph or call him Blitzen, here's a reindeer centerpiece the children can make as quick as a Twink!

All they need are five creme filled vanilla snack cakes for body and legs, a donut for the head, pretzels for antlers, a marshmallow tail and a cherry nose. Bamboo skewers and toothpicks keep the parts together.

The baked goods will be too fresh to work with right from the Hostess package. Heating in the oven will make them firmer.

You'll need:

- 2 1/2 packages (5 cakes) Hostess Creme Filled Twinkies
- 1 large Hostess Donut
- Long bamboo skewers
- Toothpicks
- 1 Marshmallow
- 2 curled pretzels
- 1 large marshmallow
- Powdered sugar, optional

Bake Twinkies and donut for 20 minutes in a 250° oven, bottom down on a baking sheet or foil. Twenty minutes

Staging Tower Christmas Tree with sequential lights and an automatic timer. A bevy of way-out styled SSP drag racers zoom off without track or motor, using a gyro principle.

Arts and Crafts Most unusual development in crafts is Play-Stone, the first clay molding compound that is permanent without being fired. It's paintable, too, and doesn't shrink or crack. Rainbow Crafts, makers of Play-Doh, experimented with natural clays from all over the world to achieve this trend setter.

Color burst painting is another innovation by Rainbow. Dream Drops and Prismatic Dream Drops give young painters the chance to create silk screen posters with professional distinction. As a drop of paint is pressed on the poster surface, it expands and blends with lightning speed. Resist lines control the flow.

WHAT A NOTION

The notions departments in stores will be offering a goldmine of ideas for easily made and very clever gifts.

Give Her a New Look from the Fashion World

An unusual yet practical Christmas gift many do not think of is a wig.

No more of the "hide your hair" philosophy is necessary with these man-made wonders to be in fashion and comfort.

Two "head-liners" popular this season are: (left) the "Giselle" with longer Hayworth-like tresses that brush off or around the face and bounce off shoulders in cascades of curls to recapture the Forties' look typical in today's fashions; and (right) the "Marcel" which can be brushed into soft curls or ringlets around the head.

Both have natural hair-lines and are made of "Elura" which takes to heat and closer control. A few hints on wig care: wash whenever necessary but use a wig-wash in cool water and rinse thoroughly.

Tease your wig if you like and brush it frequently. Don't brush from the top down but start brushing at the ends and gradually work your way up to the top.

Smart Santas can add versatility to the special girl's wardrobe with a wig.

Fashion Conscious Youngsters Attracted to 'Make Up' Model

A Beauty Parlor by Horsman features a finely sculptured mannequin of a teenage girl, with long rooted hair and removable eye-lashes, and includes a variety of non-toxic cosmetics and hairdressing accessories with which youngsters can learn and experiment with the art of good grooming and tasteful, attractive makeup.

Fashion conscious youngsters will be attracted to such new doll entries as Penelope (Call me Penny), a long-legged cloth doll in fringed suede jumpsuit with matching boots and head-band; and Teenie Boppers, whose wardrobes include such "now" creations as patchwork frocks, Indian style vests and slacks and knitted ponchos.

Old favorite character dolls like Raggedy Ann, Raggedy Andy and Bozo, the Clown, have been made into child-sized sleeping bags with full zipper closures and unique infant toys that attach to cribs and playpens, and which jump and squeak entertainingly when children tug at their pull-strings, as well as educational doll versions that help teach younger children how to lace, buckle, snap and zipper their clothing.

Dollhouse's newsmakers for Christmas include (l to r) Teach 'N Play Raggedy Ann, who helps preschoolers learn to handle laces, buttons, snaps, buckles and zippers; Black Sunny Tot, with "Afro" styled hairdo; fashionable Teenie Bopper, wearing a long patch print peasant outfit; and Tender Loving Care, the drink and wet doll whose soft, resilient skin feels as lifelike as a real baby's. Teach 'N Play Raggedy Ann by Knickerbocker. Other dolls by Horsman.

Put Entire Family In Holiday Fun Picture

In this audio-visual age, a movie camera is one item soaring to the top of the most-wanted-gift-list. Giving one to Dad this Christmas can put him in the director's chair, and the entire family in the picture, the whole year round.

Buying Dad one of the latest home movie cameras (known as Super 8mm cameras), need not mean a huge cash outlay. There are medium-priced cameras available which offer the amateur the technical capability to achieve professional effects and results.

Easy-to-load (one simply drops in a film cartridge) and easy-to-operate, these cameras feature zoom lenses, allow for effects such as fading-out and fading-in, animation, stop-motion effects, and more.

One of these cameras enables the amateur to achieve the professional technique of "lap-dissolve" (in which an image gradually dissolves into the next scene).

The camera is the Bauer C Royal 6-Zoom Super 8 (one of the Bauer C Royal group of home movie cameras—the first and only cassette movie cameras to offer this feature).

Priced at under $400, the 6-Zoom model is available at retail photo outlets.

If you decide to give Dad a movie camera gift, you're sure to provide him with an exciting new means of self-expression and you may just find you've a budding Cecil B. DeMille on your hands!

What's Christmas Without Electric Trains Under the Tree?—New Models Displayed

Somehow a Christmas tree, no matter how gaily ornamented, seems incomplete on that magical morning without an electric train set chugging around the base amidst the glitter and presents. Electric trains have always seemed so much a part of the holiday.

A name that has grown to be synonymous with electric trains is Lionel, which began making them in 1900 in a small loft in New York City. Because electricity was in limited use in those days, each railroad car was equipped with a tiny battery-operated motor. Tracks were constructed of strips of thin metal inserted into slots in wooden rails.

Increased use of electricity in later years led to Lionel's developing a transformer, thus eliminating the battery-operated cars. Year after year new improvements were added. Accessories like railroad crossing gates and whistles became available.

In the early 1950's, interest in electric trains took on epic proportions in this country, as families gathered around the train layout, taking turns operating the controls and fixing the derailments.

Now, for the first time in model railroading history, the authentic sound of a chugging steam engine, is coordinated to the speed of the engine and synchronized with the smoke released from the smokestack.

Lionel has developed a unique packaging concept for several of its train sets. All cars in these sets are packaged in styrofoam houses of assorted shapes and sizes that can be painted to form a complete foam village to place around the track layout.

Jumbo jets may soar over the land, rockets may land on the moon, but at Christmas, it will always be electric trains that win the hearts of youngsters of every age.

Santa Claus Has Come to Town

Brilliant Store Displays Unveiled, Reveal Most Versatile Gifting Choices

With a jingle of bells and a jolly "Ho-ho," Santa Claus has arrived early this year to open the Christmas shopping season. He's beaming broadly because stores are ready for his arrival — windows bedecked and counters agleam with the brightest selection of holiday gifts assembled in many a year. But he also brings a fatherly warning, gleaned from his years of experience as the best-known gift-giver of all: "Take a look at the calendar. Wrap up your shopping early."

There are only 25 shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas and Santa's early arrival has one important purpose.

He's here to remind Christmas shoppers that careful planning and early action will make their holiday errands more fun and gift-giving more successful.

The very abundance of gift selections demands considered choice. Early shoppers also avoid the chance of disappointment that comes with depleted stock or late deliveries.

Santa recommends browsing first — inspecting the dazzling array of gifts before making out your list. Big gifts, especially, need some thoughtful consideration. Jewelry and furs, for instance, should be chosen with loving care. Major appliances, TV sets, furniture, and automobiles involve delivery problems.

Stores are prepared to make special efforts for Christmas deliveries, but you can help Santa — and yourself — by getting your orders in early.

Tomorrow is none too soon to begin. Shoppers can get a good head start by looking over the ideas suggested in this special gift section. In addition to the pictures and stores, ads from leading local stores present the highlights of their holiday gift collections.

Toy Tour

Touring Toyland with the kids is a happy, traditional way to kick off the gift shopping season. It seems to put the whole family in the mood for Christmas planning, and the children, of course, get lots of ideas for holiday hints to Santa.

Many new toys are geared to help youngsters express themselves creatively, whether they lean toward arts and crafts, homemaking or building skills. Dolls are more varied and active than ever — the newest fashion mannequins have life-like sunbaths and can dance!

Another good family shopping project is the careful selection of major gifts for the home. These should be chosen early. Often they are inspected by the family in full force. Included in this category are furniture, appliances for the laundry and kitchen, and various types of electronic entertainment equipment.

Some gifts, of course, involve private errands — the secret surprises from person to person. An early shopping start helps provide time for slipping away to choose those special gifts. And there are so many special precious items to choose from!

Fresh Fashions

Holiday fashions for men and women are now at their freshest and best. Don't forget the youngsters, either — growing children always need clothes.

Accessories, accents, aids to good grooming are always appreciated. Some are so attractively packaged, they'll decorate the bureau or dressing room all year long.

And what about fine jewelry, sports and hobby equipment, tools, bicycles and books? Gifts for personal pleasure were never so varied nor so attractive. The early shopper is sure to find something uniquely suitable for every name on his list.

Whatever gifts are chosen, the giving is easier this year, thanks to such shopping conveniences as credit plans, charge accounts, layaway programs, and even gift-wrapping services. Extra salespeople are also on hand to give the early shopper additional help and advice.

It's all there now in local stores, waiting for you and your holiday gift list. With so much to see and so much to choose from, take Santa's advice and shop early. You'll have more fun that way —

Among the most cherished pictures any family can make are those of their bright-eyed youngsters registering their joy as they approach the tree on Christmas morning. And now such pictures of them in action can be made on color film by ordinary room light. Here Mother, whose special gift was given her by Dad the night before, is using the new Kodak Instamatic M133 Movie Camera to record the action without recourse to additional lighting. Of course, the new equipment will produce good action pictures in sunlight as well.

SOMETHING TO GROW ON

Brand new savings account makes a good stocking stuffer for Baby. Special accounts can be opened for very small deposits. On birthdays or other special occasions, the giver can add new deposits. After several years, this becomes a substantial gift.

Postal Authorities Say

Mail Gift Packages Early

There's one rule to follow in mailing Christmas cards, letters and packages — the sooner you do it, the better. Observing post office deadlines helps avoid the disappointment of having your greetings and gifts arrive late.

Postal authorities recommend that you have all packages and out-of-state letters and cards in the mail by December 10th. Local greeting cards should be out by December 15th.

October 15th was the deadline for mailing packages to Viet Nam, but you can still send them there by air mail until December 10th. These recommended dates apply also to areas in the Far East. For Canada and Mexico, regular mail should be in the post office by December 4th. Deadline for air mail to these countries is December 15th.

Other out-of-country deadlines for surface and air mail are as follows: Europe and South and Central America, November 15th and December 13th; Africa and the Near East, November 1st and December 10th.

Let's Wrap Up This Christmas Early

It's time now to plan ahead, make lists and set up shopping schedules. The ideal way to enjoy the season is to have all shopping done, with gifts wrapped and mailed, two weeks before Christmas. It's possible — with organization.

Resolve this year to shop early. Don't wait until the last minute. Better selections, thinner crowds, money-saving specials, and salespeople with time to advise you can make your visits to local stores a pleasure instead of a chore.

Here are some other pointers to help you:

1. START WITH A LIST. First, write down the names of all the people for whom gifts must be bought. Then make a further list of those to whom you plan to send gift certificates.

One way to save time and footwork is to break down your lists into categories — children's clothing, toys, menswear, jewelry, books and so forth. This way you can accomplish more on each shopping excursion.

2. PLAN AHEAD. Shopping trips should be scheduled for quiet times of day — early in the morning, during the supper hour — and organized with an eye toward saving time and energy.

3. KEEP EYES AND EARS OPEN. You may want to alter your lists. Try to find out what family and friends would really like as gifts. Hints aren't hard to come by, but if you're uncertain, ask. Shopping early gives you leeway for a bit of detective work.

4. SEEK INSPIRATION. Gift ideas will come from suggestions offered in this Christmas gift section. Check in sturdy boxes and heavy paper. Tie them with strong twine. Be sure to pad fragile items. Put the mailing address in the right central portion and the return address in the upper left hand corner ON ONLY ONE SIDE OF THE PACKAGE. For speediest delivery, be sure to use zip code numbers.

'Private Eye'
Solves Gift
Problems

The biggest detective mystery of the year is approaching. Question: "What size is Dad—or Mom or Aunt Wilma?"

Novice private eyes are getting clues with Scotland Yard techniques. Everyone should be out of the house—everyone but the size snatching sleuth who scans closets and bureau drawers getting the clothing sizes of everyone in the family. Of course, there is no trace of breaking and entering. The culprit gets away clear.

When a size is needed for someone outside the immediate family, different tactics can be used. This time the snooping is by someone close to the person. Parents, spouses and roommates can be good sources of information.

Uncovering the color caper is a cinch. Eyeing the case may be called for. Colors the person wears most often may prove to be good leads.

The case goes on. They don't want clothes? Don't fret. The same super-snooper can also ask questions like: "What do you want Santa to bring you?" Corny? Yes, but it sometimes works.

It's A Gift
All in Family
Will Enjoy

Good advice for Yule shoppers this year is—

"Give a gift that the whole family will enjoy."

One natural gift-idea that particularly fits that formula is the color TV set—and now is the time to take advantage of a new generation of features, such as the new super-bright picture tube. It will brighten your home on Christmas and the whole year through.

Two years ago, Zenith first produced Chromacolor, a "new generation" picture tube that produces color pictures with greater brilliance, dramatic contrast, definition and sharpness of detail. The tube was initially offered in big screen consoles and table models.

In Smaller Set
This year's shoppers will also see it in 16-inch diagonal portables that are designed for favorite second-set locations such as the bedroom, den or kitchen.

The selection was never greater. Chromacolor's brightness, greater contrast and picture detail are available in a broad selection of 16-, 19-, 23- and 25-inch diagonal screen sizes for the first time.

Furniture-styles are well represented in the consoles and combinations on the market. These include Contemporary, Danish Modern, Country French, Early American, Mediterranean, French Provincial and Transitional stylings. You can mix them or match them with your home decorative scheme. Decorators point out that a contrast adds real character to the room arrangement.

Pushbutton Control
Another feature to consider is built-in TV remote control. It's a push-button clinch to operate from across the viewing area. The number of services increases with the number of push-buttons on the hand control. Manufacturers such as Zenith provide cordless remote controls for most set sizes.

Another development is Zenith's customized tuning. Whenever the TV picture is accidentally misadjusted, it permits easy, one-step adjustment of the key controls—brightness, color level, tint, contrast and vertical hold.

Also look for other controls that make color viewing more enjoyable. They include: AFC or automatic fine-tuning control that locks in the TV channel and keeps it from drifting; ATG or automatic tint guard that locks in the most pleasing flesh tones, when you change channels.

Gifting Versatility
Offered Modern Santa

Variety, portability and a range of prices making it easy on any budget, assures today's Santa a selection from among the modern electronic gifts to bring joy to the youngest and also the older but youthful minded.

A visit to stores displaying the brilliant diversity, ranging from tape and records through radios to TV and Sound Systems, is recommended by Zenith as a help to making gift choices.

Popularity of Home Sewing
Opens Way to Gifts for Her

Home sewing is such a super vogue today among young women that you're certain to please that someone special on your Christmas list with a gift that will add joy to her new fashion creativity.

The woman who sews (80 per cent of those in the 17 to 30 age bracket are now doing their own thing) is motivated today by simpler patterns and exciting fabrics.

Because cutting is the all-important first step—whether it be a shoulder bag, belt or a short pantsuit—the home sewer today needs a basic wardrobe of sharp, high quality scissors and shears.

The fashion coordinator at J. Wiss & Sons Co. points out that just as the artist needs a different size brush for fine and broad strokes on canvas, so does the sewer require different types of cutting tools when it comes to finishing a hem, cutting a pattern, snipping threads, seam ripping, cutting miracle fabrics, creating appliques, embroidery, and constructing the sheerest lingerie.

No one pair of scissors or shears is able to do all these jobs well.

So start her off on her basic wardrobe of cutting tools with one of the famous Wiss sewing sets such as "Home-maker" which contains three of the items she will need the most: 7" dressmakers' shears with bent handles which permit the blade to rest flat on the table, making it easier to follow a pattern outline precisely; 5" sewing scissors and 4" embroidery scissors for light cutting tasks such as ripping, snipping and darning.

Packaged in an attractive travel case in five fashion colors and offering lasting protection as well as beauty, there's a wide choice of other Christmas decorations.

'Crafty' Gift Worth
Giving to Him Early

Christmas is always packed with fun, but there is work, too: re-shining last year's tarnished ornaments and silvertips, fixing an old Christmas tree stand, making a Christmas greeting sign—even carving a new decoration for the living room or creating an individual gift for a very special person.

The L'il Crafty Rotary Tool will help you do these projects quicker, easier and better, according to Sears, Roebuck and Co. tool experts, who offer these time-saving suggestions for the holidays:

Metal ornaments—especially the heavy ones—tend to tarnish when packed away in Christmas storage. With regular polish and buffing accessories, the L'il Crafty makes dull finishes glisten.

How to Do It
Apply the polish to the ornament in a light coat, and wipe it off with a clean, soft cloth. Then finish the surface to a high polish with the rag buffer accessory.

The rag buffer also does a quick job on tarnished ornamental dishes and cups made of metal. Apply the polish in the usual way, and use L'il Crafty to brighten depressions in silverplate engraving.

Touch-up paint jobs can make old Christmas tree stands look new. With an abrasive wheel locked in the chuck of the L'il Crafty, "feather" out the finish around the spots that are chipped or rusted. A small brush or the end of a cotton swab can be used to apply the new matching finish.

Be careful not to smear it. When the touch-up hardens, you can blend it in with the surrounding surface by buffing the spot lightly with the rag buffer accessory.

For cheerful plaques and signs with special Christmas messages, the L'il Crafty's burr accessories follow traced patterns exactly for perfect three-dimensional effects.

Choose a soft wood for the plaque: pine or redwood is an ideal material. Then pick the type of lettering you want; old Christmas cards provide a wide selection.

Transfer and enlarge the lettering onto a 1/2-inch square piece of paper, and then, with carbon paper, lightly trace the lettering onto the wood.

Use the L'il Crafty's burr accessories to cut the lettering into the wood, smooth any rough edges with one of the finishing accessories, "brushing" the abrasive wheel lightly along the material.

The letters of the greeting can be highlighted with a thin coat of lacquer applied with a small artist's brush. Two coats are generally required. Let them dry thoroughly before painting the surrounding surface. With a few color accents,

An ideal starter set for her basic wardrobe of scissors and shears and for years of sewing pleasure doubles as a Christmas gift. Set contains 7" dressmakers' shears, 5" sewing scissors and 4" embroidery scissors. Finest quality, too. In attractive, simulated leather zipper case in Holiday Red, Nile Green, Como Blue, Tropic Yellow and Black.

er sets containing pinking shears for making hems and decorative zig-zags on appliques; straight trimmers for cloth cutting and many other models.

Looking for a nifty stocking stuffer? Surprise her with those brand new Wiss extra sharp Knife Edge Shears designed especially for cutting today's miracle fabrics—double knits, acrylics, polyesters, bonded fabrics, velours as well as corduroy and leather.

And her cutting tool wardrobe will really be complete if you include a pair of the new Lingerie Shears with its serrated blade so the tricot will not slip when cut. Blades are long and narrow and have a special finger guide for greater cutting control.

Now you can see why in this new era of fashion self-expression a set of scissors and shears gets such a high rating during the big gift season.

State Licensed
Nursery School
Provides Locale

Parents selecting toys for pre-school children this Christmas need not be surprised to learn that they have been pre-tested. This is a proud practice of a leading toy maker.

Indeed, the toys have been subjected to exacting play time handling by small fry to determine their appropriateness under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Sabine Lieberman, an up-state nursery school teacher.

Mrs. Lieberman supervises her class of little tykes in a pleasantly littered classroom with plint-size paraphernalia. She supervises play time and clean-up time, crackers, juice time and rest time. The nursery school, a colorful, brightly lighted room, is in the basement of the Research and Development Building of Fisher-Price Toys in East Aurora, New York.

Mrs. Lieberman's nursery school for 2½ to 4½ year olds is state licensed and is part of the Fisher-Price program carried on with the help of Dr. Jerome Kagan, noted Harvard psychologist and authority on behaviours of pre-school children.

First Such School
The school, believed to be the first such facility within the confines of a toy manufacturing company, provides free, unstructured learning situations for children from surrounding communities. It also provides toy designers with an opportunity to watch children work and play in natural surroundings.

"We watch the children come into the environment, adapt to it, grow with it and—specifically—watch them play with toys that appeal to them," said Robert Hicks, Vice-President of Fisher-Price Research and Development.

He added, "It's much more advantageous for the child than the one-time shot where a mother brings the child, basically scared and dressed up, into a strange room where he is watched by unfamiliar people while he plays with a toy—once."

Further, the supervisors and designers can watch a child over a longer period. If they're trying to make a toy that a child is going to play with consistently—then they have to observe a child longer. The researchers talked specifically about the Play Family House toy. Although it is primarily bought by mothers as a girl's toy, they found it was played with at least as much by boys—but in a very boy-like way.

"The girls re-arrange the furniture," said Mrs. Lieberman. "They'll take the mother out and around and talk with her. They play with it as a little woman organizing her household. On the other hand," she added, "the little boys play with it as though they couldn't care where the furniture is."

Typical Boys

"They'd rather take the little people and toss them out of a window, playing as though there is a fire. Then, too, to little boys Daddy coming home is a big event. They'll walk up to the front door and shout 'I'm home' and everyone inside jumps to."

Mr. Hicks commented, "This is important in the development of little boys. It provides an imaginative release about firemen and daddies and all the actions little boys fantasize about."

"Toys can be facilitating to a child's development," said Dr. Kagan author of the Bible of psychology textbooks, "Child Development and Personality," now in its third edition. "They allow a child, not having the experience otherwise, to practice adult roles. They persuade him he is capable of meeting his standards and increasing his expectancy of success."

There's a Radio Set for Every Name on List

From Wallet Size to New Digital Clocks

Probably the most perplexing problem for the Christmas shopper is to come up with a "special something" for that "someone special" on the gift list.

A solution, in a single word, is: Radio.

There are gift-ideas galore in radios on the market today. Sets come in all sizes. Designs are new and exciting. Prices range... to fit practically any budget.

There are small battery-powered transistor portable radios for those who like to take music or news with them wherever they go. Many models fit neatly into a jacket pocket, tackle box, purse, brief case or camera gadget bag.

Looks Like Camera

One FM-AM model from Zenith Radio, the Royal B29, even looks like a camera. Designed for tough use by the teen or sub-teen youngster or others on the go, it has a handy carrying strap.

Indoors, a universal favorite is the clock-radio that brings so many services to its user. It tells time, acts as a waker-upper with music or an insistent buzzer alarm, jells the listener to sleep, and brings in radio favorites with the twist of a knob.

The new look in these sets is the digital clock-radio. With easy-to-read numbers replacing the conventional clock face, the set is ideal for the older's bedroom or anyone who would like to tell time across the room—without eyeglasses and in the dark.

A sure-fire hit with the young lady of the house will be a pretty table radio for her very own, mod designed such as Zenith Sonateer.

Purposeful Weather Command radios are equipped to tune National Weather Service stations broadcasting vital information on a continuous basis from 31 key cities in the U.S. and are especially helpful to outdoorsmen, including boaters.

World Spanners

There are also world-spanning sets like the Zenith Trans-Oceanic short wave and FM-AM portable radio. This set, with its 11-band reception, opens up an entire new world of radio listening for the owner. Its tuning ranges include VHF/FM weather; FM and AM broadcasts; long wave weather/navigation; short wave marine weather; ship-to-ship and ship-to-shore channels, and international short wave. It is designed to serve correspondents, diplomats, yachtsmen, explorers, outdoorsmen and armchair adventurers the world over.

GIFT-IDEA FOR HER to have and to hold, FM-AM radio is styled by Zenith like a small camera. A handy carrying strap makes it easy to take along for outdoor or indoor listening. Set comes with earphone attachment, batteries and gift box.

NEW FOR DAD or your teen listener this Christmas, this "wallet" FM-AM radio, by Zenith, offers a new version of the pocket portable. A special hidden FM antenna eliminates need for a "pull-out" FM antenna.

Portable Gift

HIDE-AWAY RADIO CONTROL—Zenith's new portable FM/AM radio, the Royal C74, provides the opportunity for a double Christmas surprise. First, the recipient discovers a clean, bold portable design. Then he discovers the hide-away control panel, which pulls out for tuning, on-off, hand selection and tone control. Battery or AC power operation.

SOUND ENTERTAINER is this slim-styled FM-AM radio and monaural record player from Zenith. It goes anywhere, plays 33 1/3 or 45 r.p.m. records anywhere on four D-cell batteries or AC power. Includes see-thru snap-on lid, earphone for private listening.

TIMED RIGHT for dad is this versatile digital FM-AM clock-radio from Zenith. It tells time, wakes you to music or buzzer alarm, surrounds you with 360° Circle of Sound no matter where you sit.

'Imaginations' Aim to Please Young, Old

With the holiday season approaching, gift-buying has precedence in everyone's thoughts. This year there is help at hand with gifts for friends and family of all ages.

No longer just a toy company, Mattel produces a wide variety of products for the world of the young at heart. For kids of all ages, Mattel has introduced a whole new line of creative art, called Imaginations. These new art forms were designed by art experts, initially for children, but everyone wants to get into the act.

Six new mediums are packaged individually, with everything for each creative project in one of the packages. The line includes Clear Cuts, simulated stained glass; Color Streaks and Drip Drops, both psychedelic paints; and Super Shapes, paper mache sculpting.

(For some pre-Christmas fun, the whole family will enjoy using Imaginations to make unique fanciful Christmas decorations.)

Keep Family Together

To keep the family together, there are some new games that bridge the generation gap. When choosing a game, try for one that will stimulate the adults, but that children can enjoy, too. Guaranteed to please both adults and children, Blarney is a new vocabulary game using little-known words. Knowledge isn't the important thing, but the ability to bluff.

Everyone has a good time and there won't be a glunch in the room—a glunch is a typical Blarney word, and means "a sullen look."

A sports spectacular for the whole family is a tabletop game called Magnetel. Eleven shooting, scoring games can be played with a magnetic action. Consider some of the possibilities—Skid Pool, Rotation Pool and Skid-Tac-Toe.

Models are also available for smaller children. Snap-Tite models don't require the manual dexterity of the more complex kits with many tiny pieces. Color is molded into Snap-Tite model kits by Mattel are for the small model-building enthusiast. Parts are molded to fit together so no glue is necessary. Pieces are already colored so no messy paints are needed. These Monogram kits are just right for a small boy, who may not be quite ready for complicated pieces in a model. Plus Snoopy's Bugatti race car is battery-operated and will come off its display base to scoot across the floor. The World War I motorcycle—not quite finished in the picture—has a side car with Woodstock in it and will also move with a battery.

all of the Snap-Tite pieces—so there's no messy painting. The snap-together fit is exact and no glue is necessary.

Battery Powered

Two of the most popular kits are Snoopy in his Bugatti race car or on his World War I motorcycle with his bird friend Woodstock in the side car. To add extra fun, both the Bugatti and motorcycle will scoot across the floor with battery-powered motors.

New Mattel craft items make lovely gifts—given as a kit or the finished item. Plush Point is simple to do, yet a detailed handcrafted picture when finished. Plush wire is inserted into a specially designed, burlap covered, plastic foam board. Eight different pictures are available—four 11" x 14" designs and four less complicated 8" x 10" versions for children.

With new Tissue Tones, the results are like oil paintings, but the doing is easier and not messy. Many shades of tissue and a special Glue Glaze produce the shades and tone that previously was accomplished only by oil. Tissue Tones are also available in eight versions—four 8" x 10" pictures for children and four 11" x 14" more detailed designs.

Adds Luxury to Bath

Turn her bath water into liquid silk with the luxurious 32-ounce size of Nautigena Body Soap Gel from Nautigena—elegantly wrapped for Christmas in vivid paper enhanced by a hot pink velvet ribbon and "gift" medallion.

Multiple Use Appliances Bring Smiles

Holiday gift giving is not limited to youngsters. The spirit of peace on Earth, goodwill toward man that heralds the Yuletide season is ageless. 'Tis the season to be jolly... a time when family and friends exchange gifts as tokens of love and friendship.

This year give a gift that expresses your feelings, and will be enjoyed throughout the entire year. One such gift is the "Quintesserie" by Ronson, a truly magnificent appliance that performs five culinary functions with ease... And does it at the dining table... in the kitchen... or on the patio or terrace.

The "Quintesserie's" ability to excel as a rotisserie, grille, grill, broiler or fryer separates it from other portable appliances.

It is the ideal Christmas gift for the woman or man who truly enjoys good cooking and good cooking equipment... Someone who will not settle for anything but the finest.

You can be sure of making that someone happy by putting a "Quintesserie" under the tree.

Christmas time is a great time to be a little girl. Especially this year, when dolls take on new dimensions. Dolls (left to right): Mia, Kerry, Movin' Groovin' Velvet and Movin' Groovin' Crissy... Ideal's new dolls with torsos that twist, shoulders that swing. In the hands of two admirers is the new Talky Crissy, who also has a cousin Talky Velvet—they're hair growing dolls. All dolls, accessories and wardrobes from Ideal.
